REPORTED MASSACRE.

Five Troops of Cavalry Butchered by Indians--Vivid Description of a Battle.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 2.—Eight companies of troops—480 men—left this morning for the front, via the Union Pacific, Cheyenne and Northern, and Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroads to Rushville. They took four Gatling cannon and left in the best of spirits. Eighteen cars were required to accommodate the troops.

Much excitement prevailed here over the reported massacre of five troops of the Ninth cavalry by the Indians, and the suicide of Maj. G. V. Henry, their commander, rather than be captured.

AS TOLD BY AN EYE WITNESS.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 2.—A correspondent, who was an eye witness of the fight at Wounded Knee Creek, between Big Foot's band and the Seventh cavalry, sends the following description of the battle:

Scarcely had company K begun the work of disarming the Indians when some of the ghost dancers began swaying and singing their ghost chant, while the medicine men began to make medicine. A handful of dust was thrown into the air. The Indians leaped to their feet and began pouring their deadly fire into faces of the astounded soldiers not more than twenty feet away. The crash of the first volley had hardly died away, when it was echoed by the return volley of the soldiers, and the slaughter began.

There was no running, no stampede, no flinching. For twenty minutes it was one deafening crash, one blaze of musketry, one boom, boom, boom, of the rapidly firing cannon. It was bullets past the head, between the feet, through the clothing, and through the heads and hearts of many. Then the remnants of the enemy broke and ran, a bunch of about fifteen, mainly women and children, escaping to a ravine close by.

Who can picture the scene, who can paint in words to the hell from which one emerged. It is unparalelled in the history of Indian wars. In a space of not 200 yards square lay thirty dead and forty wounded soldiers and 135 Indians, while fifty women and children lay writhing with the agony of their wounds, over one hundred and sixty-five human beings dead in that small space, and ninety wounded.

Such results of an hour and a half of fighting between such forces is almost beyond belief. Indians from Pine Ridge, who had heard the boom of cannon, dashed in and carried off the small party hid in the ravine, very nearly cutting off and killing Captain Jackson and his party of twenty men, who were trying to dislodge this party. Capt. Geo. D. Wallace was killed at the door of a tepee, being struck by two bullets in the leg, one through the stomach, and one over the right eye, and hit with a hatchet on the top of the head and across the forehead.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 2.—Governor Thayer to day sent telegraphic instructions to the commander of the state militia at Long Pine to move at once to Cadron, the scene of the threatened Indian outbreak. Orders were also given to the commanders at Fremont, Central City and Tecumah, to be prepared to start at any time.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 2.—All communication with the railroad is cut off except to the officers over the military wires. There has been no mail service since Sunday, and no one, excepting Indians, to carry telegrams to the railroad. General Miles sent out a telegram warning settlers along the railroad.

BELL TELEPHONE PATENT.

What Will Be the Condition of Things When It Expires.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Bell telephone patent expires in 1893, and not a few people think that after that date many telephone companies will spring up throughout the country, and that competition will make the service as cheap as any other upon which no patent is held. This is a very pleasing outlook, but it may not eventuate at the time expected nor for a long time thereafter. The original Bell patent is for the simple principle of telephoning—a patent upon the transmission of sound waves. Starting from that point, many improvements have been made and patented. Inquiry at the patent office developed the fact that nearly every one of them, at least every one of real value, has been bought by the Bell company outright, or has by other means come under its control. The records of the assignment division of the office are sprinkled over with entries showing that this or that patent has been assigned to the Bell company. The best transmitter yet invented, and one regarded by many experts as nearly perfect, is the Blake. The patent upon it does not expire until 1895, and it is under the control of the Bell people. Thus it is through a long list. The Bell company has its hands upon a large number of almost invaluable patents, which do not expire for years after its original one. A prominent patent attorney of this city said that the situation reminded him of the time that the original sewing machine patents expired fourteen or fifteen years ago. It was heralded around that people would be able to buy machines for but little more than cost of the materials of which they were made. The prophecy was not fulfilled, for the sewing machine people had done in regards to improvements upon their patents what the Bell company has done.

FATAL FIGHT

Occurs at Newport, Arkansas, Over a Dispute About Land.

NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 2.—A conflict as to the ownership of a small tract of land led to a fatal shooting Wednesday night at Newark, fourteen miles from here. The parties contesting for possession were W. T. Magness and C. E. Perdue. The former rented the land to L. Cleveland and he removed his family into a house on it. A week ago Purdue also moved his family into the same house. New Years eve Cleveland invited friends to a candy pulling. Magness and a few others were present and their presence angered Perdue and he ordered Cleveland from the house. Hot words followed and shooting commenced. Cleveland received three bullets and died in fifteen minutes. Purdue also received three bullets and died in twenty minutes. Henry Perdue, the dead man's brother, was fatally wounded and Magness received two slight wounds.

CHICAGO Y. M. C. A.

To Expend a Princely Sum for an Immense New Building.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The announcement is made that the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago is to erect a magnificent building on the corner of LaSalle and Madison streets, at a cost of $1,400,000. The building will have fourteen stories, three of which will be devoted entirely to the work of the association. The late John Crerar made a bequest of $50,000, as a nucleus of a fund to give Chicago a Y. M. C. A. building which would give the association the necessary accommodations to extend its work. Two other Chicago men have subscribed $25,000 each, and other amounts are being rapidly added. The association needs $400,000 to secure the building fund.

STEAMER SINKS

In the Ohio River, but all on Board are Saved.

MADISON, Ind., Jan 2.—The steamer General Pike, Samuel Bryant master, collided with a coal barge at the Mail line landing at noon yesterday, broke its hull, filled with water, and sank. All on board escaped. Lawrence Taylor was injured by jumping. Papers and valuables were saved. The boat belonged to the Cincinnati and Louisville Mail line company, was built here fourteen years ago and was valued at $15,000; uninsured.

The Indiana Midland.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 2.—The Indiana Midland railroad company has begun work between Carbon and Brazil. The Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and Southwestern has attempted nothing between these points as yet, being occupied with reaching Bridgeton on their way to Bainbridge via Mansfield. The Midland folks have taken possession of the old north and south roadbed from Carbon south, while their rival occupies it from Carbon north.

Dr. Moore, of the Midland, says that company is free from debt. "The company," said he, "was once in debt by reason of subsidies to the amount of $120,000 which could not be collected, but money was borrowed and all bills paid. The company now owns seven locomotives, six passenger coaches and a hundred cars besides, and is in fair condition."

Beginning work between Carbon and Brazil, the Midland heads off its rival. The fight is getting warm and much interest attaches to the suit now pending in the Clay circuit court for January 7. The subsidy will likely be voted. The election occurs January 12.

Telegraph Company Gets Through.

TERRE HAUTE, Jan. 2.—The Postal telegraph line from Indianapolis reached the city limits Wednesday, and an office will be immediately located at the Terre Haute house. The difficulty with Joseph Blake over right of way along the National road from the county line was amicably adjusted and the right of way was secured. A force of men is rapidly building the line from St. Louis, and are now at a point only four miles distant from this city. When the town of Martinsville was reached a demand for $1,200 was made on the company for right of way, which the company refused to pay, and the line was run around the town. Within a week Terre Haute will be on another telegraph line from Indianapolis to Terre Haute.

Kansas Legislature.

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 2.—The election of Ed. Wheeler, alliance candidate, for senator in the Thirty-second district, makes the legislature stand: Senate—republicans, 38; democrats, 1; alliance, 1. House—Republicans, 26; alliance, 91; democrats, 8. The inauguration of the governor takes place January 12.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—For Indiana: Colder; fair; northwesterly winds.

ON A POLICY.

The Disorganized Central Mutual Insurance Company Sued--Court News.

The Edison Electric Illuminating company enter suit in the superior court against the Central Mutual Fire insurance company, to recover $3,000 on a policy. The plaintiffs do business at 255 and 257 Pearl street, New York, and the defendant company to the suit was an incorporated company which recently went out of business in this city. The plaintiffs' counsel is William P. Breen.

COURT GULLINGS.

Justice Harry F. France has turned over to the county treasurer the sum of $252.50, the amount in fines collected by him during the last six months of 1890. The other justices of the peace are requested to report within a specified time.

The courts were almost barren of news to-day.

IDENTIFYING THE DEAD

Killed in the Disaster at Wilkesbarre, Pa, Nine Months Ago.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 2.—By noon yesterday the remains of the last of the eight victims of the disaster of March 3 last had been recovered and brought to the surface. Of flesh there was little, and in several cases bones, too, were partially disintegrated and torn apart, while only a few fragments of their clothing remained. It was by this clothing, however, that after the remains had been cleaned and put together as well as possible, seven of the bodies were identified. Frank Cull's wooden leg was the means of his identification. Hugh Duncan's wife remembered a white button she had sewed on his coat the day before the disaster. Thomas Williamson had on iron-heeled boots; William McDonald leather leggings with iron buckles; Mike Harkins a pair of common shoes instead of regular miner's boots, and so with the others. All were identified, except one little heap of bones and bits of flesh, which was, therefore, judged to be the remains of Patrick McNellis. The fragments, as fast as identified, were placed in caskets covered with black cloth. They will all be interred in one grave in the Hanover cemetery to morrow.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

Two of Them Taken Into Custody at Dayton, O.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 2.—John T. Miller, formerly a tobacco packer here, was arrested at Lewisburg, northwest of here, Wednesday night by United States Detective Donnell, for making and selling counterfeit five dollar pieces. An ex-convict named Patterson, who had been selling the money, was arrested for passing the stuff in the country in exchange for turkeys. The convict gave Miller away. Miller had made a quantity of bogus coin, but had only three hundred fives on hand. Over a thousand had not been finished. Galvanic batteries, dies, babitt metal and plaster casts were captured. Both of the men are now in jail.

SAD DEATH

Of a Lady While on a Visit to Friends.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—On December 16 Mrs. Annie C. Otis, of Auburn, N. Y., arrived in this city on a visit to her brother-in-law, F. W. Terpening, of Morgan street. On their way to Mr. Terpening's home the carriage in which they were riding was struck by a cable car on Otis street and Mrs. Otis received internal injuries which resulted in her death last night.

Increases Its Capital.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 —The Metropolitan Traction company, of Philadelphia, and which controls the Broadway and Seventh avenue surface and other street car lines in this city, has decided to increase its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. The present stockholders will be allowed to subscribe for the new stock. Only $60 per share will be called for and payment is to be made in four installments, the first coming due January 15th. With the $6,000,000 thus secured the company intends to lay the proposed cable on the Broadway surface road and to buy additional property that is needed and also to acquire certain securities of controlled lines that are desired.

Farmer's Alliance.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 2.—At yesterday's session of the farmer's alliance, considerable miscellaneous business was attended to, resolutions adopted and a constitution favorably acted on. A resolution to indorse the Ocala platform was heavily defeated and the subject of sub-treasuries was ignored in the regular resolutions, while the Conger lard bill was indorsed.

The Seventeenth Man Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Robert Simcoe, aged thirty-six, an engineer at the public building, fell from a window on the seventh floor while watching New Year's parade and was killed. He is the seventeenth man killed at the building.

John Smith Deceased.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The vestry of the parish of St. Sepulchre church of which repose the remains of Captain John Smith, the famous explorer of Virginia and hero of the Pocahontas adventure, has determined to comply with a recommendation of the church wardens and erect a suitable stone to the memory of Captain Smith.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

On a Tow Boat, Killing Five and Wounding Others.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Jan. 2.—At 3 o'clock this morning the tow boat Annie Roberts, of Pittsburg, exploded a cylinder head, instantly killing five men and terribly wounding many more. The tow boat exploded a cylinder head tearing open the boiler deck of of the boat and hurling the mangled bodies of five men, and about ten or twelve wounded, into the river. The boat was bound for Pittsburg, and was moving slowly up the river, but with a full pressure of steam.

Most of the men killed and injured were sleeping in their bunks at the time of the accident. All were horribly burned, scalded, and some mangled by pieces of iron. The following is a list of the dead: Frank Perry, deck hand; Ben Lawson, fireman; James Swail, J. B. Shaw, and James Green, deck hands. The damage to the vessel is very slight. It is owned by a Pittsburg firm, and most of the crew lived there.

ST. LOUIS FIRE.

The Flames Visit a House of Refuge at That City.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 2.—The night watchman at the house of refuge, two miles south of this city, discovered fire in the engine room at 4 o'clock this morning. He turned in an alarm and awakened Superintendent Shaffer, who gave orders to have the boys, numbering 160, awakened and dressed. For fifteen minutes excitement was intense in the boys' dormitory. The youngsters hustled into their clothing in terror and were marched to the hall on the lower floor. Several times Superintendent Shaffer was on the point of opening the doors and ordering the boys to march out, but when the fire engines arrived, the firemen assured him the boys' department could be saved. The panic in the boys' dormitory was quelled without accident and none of the inmates were hurt, or escaped. The loss will not exceed $5,000, fully insured.

A SNEAK THEIF

Robs a Mail Wagon and Secures $3,000 in Money Orders.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A daring robbery was committed Wednesday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock by which Uncle Sam is loser to the extent of $3,000 Under cover of the heavy fog which prevailed, a sneak thief climbed on the mail wagon which runs between the stock yards and Blue Island office and the Main office, while it was passing along the streets, and abstracted a pouch containing the daily order remittance from the Blue Island office, amounting to $300 in cash, the stamps sale remittance amounting to $174, and twenty-six registered letters representing as far as can be learned, money and valuables to the extent of $2,500. The secret service department is working on the case.

THE ICE GAVE WAY.

While the Party Was Crossing and Mrs. Carnahan Was Drowned.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 2.—Word is received that Wednesday evening in crossing the Missouri river ice between Fort Sully and Fort Bennett, the wife of Lieutenant Carnahan was drowned, with the driver and two teams of mules. Lieutenant Carnahan and others had just crossed before her. The ambulance containing Mrs. Carnahan followed, and as it reached the ice in the centre of the river the ice gave way. As Mrs. Carnahan was locked in it was impossible for her to get out, and before assistance could be had to raise the vehicle she was dead. The driver was lost in the fall. Lieutenant and Mrs. Carnahan were married at Fort Bennett last winter.

MINISTER SUICIDES.

Crazed From Overstudy, a Baptist Divine Ends His Life.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 2.—Rev. Purmelles Reynolds, a prominent Baptist preacher of this section, crazed by excessive study of the scriptures, committed suicide by hanging himself from the rafters of his stable.

The Deadly Electric Wire.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 2 —John Halon, Bell telephone line man, while at work on a pole in company with two others, unknowingly grasped an electric wire, and was badly burned. The shock rendered him unconscious, and, releasing his hold, he fell, striking his head on the curbing, killing him instantly. Halon was the man, who, only yesterday, two blocks away, removed the unconscious form of William Peterson, who narrowly escaped death in a like manner.

Mangled Beyond Recognition.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 2.—When the locomotive running from Fort Hamilton to Brooklyn reached the city late last night the head and soldiers of an unknown man fell from between the wheels. The man was killed four miles away by the train where the rest of his body was found. The head was mangled beyond recognition.

CHURCH OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Lutheran Congregations Meet and Select Officers to Manage Their Church Affairs.

The congregations of several of the different churches in this city held meetings yesterday and elected officers as follows:

St. John's Reformed Church—Chas. Piepenbrink and Herman Lauman, elders; Louis Meyer and Adolf Grotholtman, directors; Adolf Grotholtman, trustee.

Salem Reformed Church — Henry Bauer, elder; Conrad Kettler, director, and Gottlieb Haller, David Hill, George Fisher, Conrad Kettler, Henry Stoll, trustees.

Emanuel Lutheran Church — Gustave Spiegel, Henry Berlin and Wm. Schoenfeld, elders; Henry Hilbrecht, Christian Bande, directors; Henry Hilbrecht, cashier, and Professor Hormel, secretary. Several weeks ago it was decided to appoint an assistant pastor. The following names have been submitted for consideration: Rev. Mezger, Illinois; Professor Zucker, Fort Wayne; Rev. Lothman, Akron, Ohio; Rev. Borth, Ottawa, Cann.; Rev. Portzner, Kansas; Rev. Sieg, Stillwater, Minn. The new pastor will be elected in two weeks.

St. Pauls Lutheran church—Gottlieb Thieme and Fred Miller, elders; Henry Moellering, Paul E. Wolf, Henry Wichman, Henry Schultz and Fred Bleke, directors, and William Gallmeier, trustee.

Zions Lutheran church—Wm. Miller, trustee; Wm. Scheuman, Fred Dicke and Henry Neiter, directors.

DIED SINGING.

"God Bless Our Home," "In God We Trust," and the Soul Goes to Its Maker.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Maggie Smith, a woman of questionable character, with a male companion, entered a wine room at the corner of Sixth and Elm streets, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The couple took seats at a table near where a man was playing the piano and singing the song "The Mottoes That Are Framed Upon the Wall." The woman drank some beer, arose and joined in the singing. She had proceeded only as far in the song as "God Bless Our Home, In God We Trust," when she reeled suddenly, fell to the floor and after a severe struggle breathed her last. It is supposed she put poison in her beer.

HUNG TO A TREE.

A Brutal Negro Lynched by Men in Texas.

WACO, Texas, Jan. 2.—Early Wednesday afternoon Charles Beale, a negro aged twenty, entered the residence of James Fisher, a farmer of Lang Falls county, and finding Mrs. Fisher alone, terribly abused her and finally injured her skull with a hammer. He then left, taking away a small sum of money. Neighbors called and found Mrs. Fisher to be still alive. A party of young men pursued the negro and at 2 o'clock yesterday morning they had captured him. The victim identified him after which he confessed. Beale was taken to a grove near by where he was hoisted to a bough on which his body was allowed to dangle nearly all day. Mrs. Fisher will die.

HE'S ALL RIGHT.

A Preacher Who Can Neither Read Nor Write in Great Demand.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 1.—Greene county boasts of having a preacher of the gospel who can neither read nor write. His wife reads a chapter in the bible and announces the text. He then arises and delivers a powerful discourse appealing to those who are not in the church to enter its portals at once. At a recent revival he received sixty-five accessions. He is in receipt of calls and munificent offers from all over the state, but declines to leave the county.

Orange Buyers.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 2.—A Tampa special says: "The Orange Buyers' association, which has been on an excursion to Cuba, arrived here yesterday, homeward bound. It is composed of members of firms and their representatives from the principal cities in the United States engaged in buying Florida oranges for shipment to fruit distributing cities."

Snow and Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan, 2.—Light rain and snow fell during the night in Nevada and Arizona, the snowfall varying in Western Nevada from three to ten inches, and the depth on the ground is reported at from two to four feet. Snow also fell in the Tehachapi mountains and the mountain district of Eastern California.

A North Pole Explorer.

BREMEN, Jan. 2.—The renowned North Polo explorer, Nordenskjold, has arrived here. He intends to search the libraries here for old charts and graphic notations of Arctic regions. From here he will proceed to Vienna to confer with Jacpayer of North Pole fame.

Foreign.

LONDON, Jan. 2 —A dispatch from Lisbon to the Daily News states that negotiations are being conducted between the Portuguese government and a French syndicate for the consolidation of the floating debt of Portugal. If the negotiations are successfully accomplished before the maturing of the existing debt the syndicate will be granted certain privileges.

STILL A PRISONER.

Marvin Kuhns Game Does Not Work --Remanded to a Cell--Wants to Go to Noble County.

This afternoon Marvin Kuhns was again marched into the presence of Judge Dawson, of the superior court on the strength of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by the prisoner, through his attorney, George W. Loutitt. Prosecutor Robinson urged that the court quash the writ of habeas corpus and remand the prisoner into the hands of the sheriff, upon a warrant issued by the circuit court of Noble county, which charges him with grand larceny. The judge executed the warrant and found it to be regular. He therefore ordered the prisoner to be held a prisoner by the sheriff of Allen county. Kuhns then had a whispered consultation with his counsel, which resulted in the young attorney demanding the surrender of Kuhns to the Noble county authorities within twenty-four hours. Judge Dawson stated that such a question did not come under his jurisdiction; that the Noble county court must govern such action, therefore the judge's order remained in force and Kuhns was marched back to his cell.

The criminal did not appear to be disturbed over the proceedings. He consoled himself by skillfully extracting a big plug of tobacco from his pocket with his manacled hands and biting off a chew.

The prisoner will be kept until the arrival of the Fostoria authorities, who are expected to arrive next Monday to take him into custody.

ALONE WITH THE DEAD.

The Wife of a Murdered Man Found by His Corpse.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 2.—Yesterday Dan McCauley called at the jail and told Sheriff Murphy that he wanted to surrender himself for killing his brother-in-law, William McLeas, a miner in the Nickel Plate mines, and living at Buckeye Flats. The sheriff thought it but the mutterings of a crazy man, but locked him up, and in company with George Schultz started for the flats. The scene that greeted them was a pitiful and ghastly one. McLeas lay dead upon a bed in his rude home, his eyes wide open and his clothes almost torn off, while there was a terrible gash across the neck. By the dead man's side sat his terror stricken wife moaning and bewailing her hard lot.

Some years ago McLeas struck McCauley upon the left hand, crippling it in a manner that made work impossible. Since that time McLeas gave the injured man a home. Mrs. McLeas' story is as follows: Her husband came to Brazil last night and bought a gallon of whisky. Taking it home, he and is brother-in-law proceeded to get drunk. Then McLeas began kicking and abusing McCauley until his wife interfered, when he struck her upon the head. She and her brother then went into the kitchen, when McLeas siezed a chair and started to follow them. McCauley picked up an ax and as McLeas came through the door he struck him on the side of the neck. The keen edge of the blade cut a terrible gash, severing the jugglar vein and causing instant death. Both men men are about 45 years of age and good citizens when sober. McCauley said he was afraid of his life and that of his sister and was compelled to commit the murder.

BERTHA IS MAD.

She Thought She Was Married, But She Wasn't.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 2.—Charles McGonigle and P. R. McCready are in a decidedly bad box, and they fully realize it.

Last Thursday Miss Bertha Hamilton, a beautiful girl of sixteen years, was married, as she thought, to McGonigle, the ceremony being performed by a justice of the peace. Miss Hamilton lived with McGonigle until yesterday as his wife, when she learned through one of McGonigle's friends that the ceremony was a bogus one, young McCready having personated a justice of the peace.

Miss Hamilton, who was very much in love with McGonigle, was nearly heart broken when she learned the true state of affairs, but in spite of this she lost no time, for she caused warrants to be issued yesterday against both the young men, and had the satisfaction of seeing both of them safely behind the bars of the county jail. She says she will send them both to the penitentiary.

Got His Just Reward.

ANDERSON, S. C., Jan. 2 —Luther Brock, a young white man, with several companions, went to a negro house and demanded admission. Being refused, they fired several shots through the door, then knocked the door down with clubs. As the door fell young Brock entered, when George Smith, a negro, met him with an ax and struck him on the head. Brock died in the afternoon. No arrests.

REV. C. GROSS ILL.

The Well Known Pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran Church Critically Sick With Lagrippe.

Rev. Charles Gross, pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, is dangerously ill with lagrippe at his residence, 241 West Jefferson street. The beloved pastor suffers from a recurrence of the same trouble which afflicted him a year ago, only the present attack is more pronounced and consequently more to be feared. The early stage of the sickness precludes a definite diagnosis of the case, but that Rev. Gross is very ill is beyond any doubt and the physicians and family express the gravest apprehension. The sick patient was delirious much of last night but was a little better this morning.

MRS. KOEHLER'S SPREE.

A Married Woman in Court--Two Very Plain Drunks.

Annie Koehler, the wife of Mike Koehler, the brickmaker and orator, was before the mayor this morning. Annie ushered in the New Year by getting hilariously drunk. She stayed with her "jag" all day yesterday and last night she was trying to paint everything and everybody a very deep carmine on Harrison street, near Main. The woman was taken into custody by Officer Richter, who soon had her riding in the hurry-up wagon. The mayor inflicted punishment to the extent of eleven days. The prisoner was later released on bail.

Officer Richter also arrested Thomas Carey and Patrick Moran for drunkenness. Moran was given eleven days, but Carey was up on a similar charge December 19, therefore the mayor made his fine $24.50, or twenty-five days jail. Carey took the latter.

TERRIBLE SCENES.

At a School Children's Fete in London During a Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Further particulars received to-day from Wortley, near Leeds, show that the terrible scenes witnessed at the school fete there, were not exaggerated, though the cause of disaster was not the falling of a string of Chinese lanterns, as at first supposed. The school fete referred to was a charity bazaar, held under the auspices of the parish of Wortley. The building used for the fete was the church school adjoining the Wortley Episcopal church. Part of the program of the bazaar attractions were a series of tableaux vivants, in which a number of the young girls and boys of the parish took part.

The parents and friends of the children were assembled in the school-room, forming a happy, chatting audience, prepared to admire and applaud everything said or done by their dear ones. Suddenly shrieks of terror issued from the little dressing-room, and the audience sprang in alarm from their seats, the male portion of the assemblage making a rush for the school room stage.

The gentlemen were horror struck to see quite a number of children rush upon the stage with their costumes on fire. In a moment the air was filled with cries of terror from the children and from the ladies in the audience, many of whom then knew their little daughters to be in danger of death. Several ladies fainted, thus adding considerably to the confusion. The gentlemen promptly seized the burning children and threw them upon the stage and smothered the flames.

Finally the suffering children to the number of about twenty, were taken to the Wortley infirmary, while others were attended to at their homes. Up to the present there are four deaths recorded as the result of the disaster, and some of the injured are not expected to recover.

BILL MOORE CAUGHT.

Supposed to Be the Man Who Murdered an Aged Couple.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 2.—Bill Moore, of Pendleton county, known as "Cottonville Bill Moore," was arrested here to-day on suspicion of being one of the murderers of Samuel Lowe and wife, at Green Lick, on the edge of Harrison county, on the night of December 9th.

Lowe and his wife, who were aged respectively 70 and 60 years, were murdured at their fireside by two men with white caps on. Moore and an accomplice were suspected of the crime, and a mob started out to lynch them if found, but nothing was heard of either, until Moore was arrested here yesterday. He was recognized by the description which had been sent over the country.

At first he denied his identity, but afterward acknowledged that he was the man wanted. He was taken to Falmouth for trial. There was a reward of $700 offered for his arrest. Moore is said to have killed several men and been guilty of arson and many other crimes.

FRIDAY'S FLASHES.

The Budget of News as it Comes from the Busy Centers of the City.

The Pittsburg wrecking crew of this city spent New Years day at Lima, O.

L. Gerke, of the machine department of the Pittsburg car shop, has recovered from an illness.

August Kaiser has accepted a position in the machine department of the Indiana machine works.

Gust Leichel, of the blacksmith department of the Bass works, is suffering from an injured eye.

The trains on the different roads in this city were running late to-day on account of the snow storm.

John Brown, formerly of the Nickle Plate, who was in the city to spend New Years, left yesterday for his home.

The inventory of all the manufacturing establishments in the city have been taken and a new set of books have been opened.

Adam Fergel has accepted a position at the Bass works. He formerly held a position in the car wheel moulding department.

All the departments of the Wabash shops in this city resumed work this morning, after having been shut down for ten days.

Ed. Castelloe, switchman in the yards of the Wabash road at Toledo, O., who was in the city to spend the holidays, has returned.

The Bowser oil tank and pump works have suspended operations for a few days to make necessary repairs to the machinery. They will resume work Monday.

Only one of the cupaloes in the car wheel department of the Bass works is in operation to-day and several of the moulders are off duty in consequence.

Andy McClure, general foreman of the Wabash shops at Andrews, who was in this city to spend New Years day with his family, has returned to his duties.

All the large manufacturing establishments of the city which were closed down to allow the employes to observe New Years, resumed operation this morning.

Frank A. Mangan, a student in the Pennsylvania Company's office at Dixon, Ohio, who was in this city visiting relatives for a few days, has returned to his home.

Harvey Cronmiller and Jack Hislop have left for Huntington to accept positions in a foundry. They formerly held similar positions in the moulding rooms of the Bass works.

William Perrin, formerly a brakeman on the eastern division of the Fort Wayne road, now holding a position in the Birch plow works, at Crestline, O., was a visitor in this city for a few days.

O. V. Riley, telegraph operator on the Fort Wayne road at Adams, who resides in this city, entertained his brother, Ottis, over New Years day. He is a teacher in the public schools at Convoy, Ohio.

The works of Rhinesmith & Simonson, the lumber dealers, have suspended operation for a few days to allow some necessary repairs to be made to the machinery. They will start up again Monday morning.

Louis H. Luessinhup has been made assistant to Baggage Master Joe Sunderland at the south depot and his duty will be in day service. The young man was formerly employed in the drug store of Theime & Gross. He succeeds Jacob Strohm in his present position.

Fireman Gray, in the yards of the Nickel Plate road at Stony Island, who was badly scalded while on duty, was brought to his home in this city yesterday afternoon. He turned on one of the safety valves in a hurried manner and the escaping steam came in contact with his face. His eyes and forehead were badly burned and it is feared that the eyesight will be destroyed. He is the son of Contractor Gray, of 230 East Wayne street.

Several cars on the Fort Wayne road were thrown from the track early yesterday morning, at Lima, O. A switch engine on the Dayton and Michigan road was backing up, and before it could be stopped ran into a freight train on the Pittsburg track, and four of the cars were badly wrecked. Trains were also delayed several hours on the Wabash road yesterday morning, on account of a small wreck, which occurred on the junction at Lafayette. None of the train men were injured in either case.

Watchman Patrick Lanigan, who operates the safety gates of the Calhoun street crossing of the Pittsburg road, has recovered from a week's sickness and returned to duty. Mr. Lanigan has always enjoyed good health, this being the first time in his life he was ill enough to send for a doctor. On the first day of next April he will have been in his present position and at the same crossing twenty-four years.

Wendelein Eisenmann, of Greensburg, formerly landlord of the Moss house, is dead.

The Peru Daily Sentinel is making an outspoken and savage war upon the gambling fraternity.

The new mayor of Marion has ordered liquor laws enforced, and that the wide-open traffic be no longer tolerated.

Harry, aged six, son of Milton B. Robbins, of Shelbyville, was blinded for life yesterday, while playing with fire crackers.

Morgan county shows mortgages filed during 1890, amounting to $97,500, while those released aggregate over $350,000.

The venerable T. B. Johnson, of South Bend, is dead. He was aged seventy-seven, and he settled in South Bend in 1843.

Benjamin Alvie, employed in the mines near Newberg, was caught by falling slate yesterday, breaking his spine and collar bone.

There was a fox-drive near Loogootee, in which many people participated. Nothing but clubs were used, and the spoils included five foxes and nearly 200 rabbits.

During a country dance near Greenburg a fight occurred between Walter Perry and John Pettit, who are brothers-in-laws, and Pettit was shot twice and seriously wounded. Perry fled to escape arrest.

John Savage, of Connersville, while in the act of leaving his home to attend a lecture, was stricken with paralysis, and died within a few hours. He was aged seventy-five, a Mason of long standing, and he twice served as sheriff of Fayette county.

Alexander Coseman, a farmer, near Lima, O., came to Shelbyville, to marry a woman whom he did not know, either by name or in person. Coseman's first wife died some time ago, and she made him promise during her last sickness, that if he ever married again he would choose one of her sisters. He heard one of the sisters was a widow, living in Shelby county, and by giving the names of relatives he was able to locate her as Mrs. Mary Reed. Within an hour after making her acquaintance they were man and wife.

HE FOUGHT WITH CUSTER.

Capt. George D. Wallace's Brief but Eventful Military Career.

Capt. George D. Wallace, killed by the Indians near Pine Ridge agency, was an intimate friend and close comrade of Dr. A. J. Laubach, of this city. The two fought together under the stars and stripes. In the fall of 1887 Captain Wallace was ordered to Jefferson barracks, where he was placed in command of Troop B, which position he retained until the autumn of 1889.

Captain Wallace was a native of South Carolina, and in 1868 received an appointment to the United States military academy. Upon graduating, in 1872, he was assigned to the Seventh cavalry with the rank of second lieutenant. He served with his regiment through several Indian campaigns and was in Custer's fatal campaign in 1876, being attached to Reno's command. The casualties in his regiment gave him his promotion to the rank of first lieutenant, and in September, 1889, he received his commission of captain, being next to the youngest of his rank in his regiment.

DE LESSEPS' stock is so far below par that it is almost out of sight. His Panama failure is followed by the announcement that the proposed scheme of cutting a canal through the Isthmus of Gabes and turning the Sahara Desert into a sea has been abandoned because rock was found where the diggers expected to find sand. M. De Lesseps had looked the plan over and pronounced it feasible. Recently one of the dredges purchased by the Nicaragua Canal Company from the Panama Canal Company sunk in the Gulf while on the way to its new owners. Its name was the Ferdinand De Lesseps. The ambitious Frenchman is getting down near the under side of things, it would seem.

THERE is a project to construct a ship canal across New Jersey from the Delaware River to the Atlantic. The scheme was first suggested by merchants of Philadelphia, who desire a shorter water route to New York and an abbreviation of the journey of hundreds of miles down the bay and around Cape May to strike the ocean paths to Europe.

We are a patient people—the ox is nowhere in comparison.

We buy lamp-chimneys by the dozen; they go on snapping and popping and flying in pieces; and we go on buying the very same chimneys year after year.

Our dealer is willing to sell us a chimney a week for every lamp we burn—a hundred or more a year—and we plow for him, pay him for goading us.

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" do not break from heat; they are made of tough glass.

As likely as not our dealer would rather his chimneys would break; "it's good for the business," says he. He buys the brittlest ones he can get.

"What are you going to do about it?"

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills makes a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES.

In many instances there has been little change in prices, especially in staple goods. The sugar market has been steady, the clique who has had hold of it being afraid to advance prices. In consequence of the tariff agitation this was not so last year where in one instance inside of 30 days they sent prices up over 3c. per pound.

Coffee A. Standard, 6½c. Coffee C. Extra Yellow, 6c.
Granulated, Crushed and Powdered, 7c.

The Tea market in second grades has been much higher; these qualities have advanced over 5c. In the first qualities there has been no change; fortunately we had a large supply before the advance which enabled us to continue to sell to our customers at old prices. Our motto in dealing in Teas, like other goods, is to buy in large quantities and we sell direct to the consumer, thereby saving to our customers the profits of the jobber and speculator, which is not less than 10 and 20 c. on the pound. This is the secret in the success of our Tea trade trade-large sales and small profits.

Young Hyson Tea, good, 20c.; choice, 30c.; best, 50c. lb.
Imperial Tea, extra, 30c; best, 50c lb.
Gunpowder Tea, extra, 30c. lb; best, 50c lb.
Oolong or Black Tea, extra, 25c.; best, 50c. lb.
Japan Tea Uncolored, choice, 30c; best, 50c lb.

COFFEE, COFFEE—Rio, Mocha, Java and Roasted Coffee.

There are indications of a great decline in coffee the next two months as receipts in Rio and Santos are very large, and this being shipped to New York will compel the clique who has had hold of the market to let go, and in consequence the market will go down: Prices remain as last quoted:

Best Rio Coffee, 23c. lb. Choice Old Govt. Java, 28c. lb.
Best Green Mocha, 30c. lb. Best Roasted Rio, 25c. lb.
Best Roasted Java, 33c. lb. Best Roasted Mocha, 35c. lb.
Sampson Brand in Packages, 26c. Jersey Coffee in Packages, 26c.
Durham Coffee in Packages, 26c. Levering's Coffee, 26c. lb.
Cordava Coffee 1lb. pack 26c.

The Christmas trade in toys and presents promises to be large this season, and in consequence of such a demand we have laid in an immense supply of all kinds of toys and fancy goods suitable for presents for old and young. They are too numerous to mention them in detail, but we have dolls of all kinds and sizes from the 1c doll up to the $1.50 dressed doll. Fancy plush albums, very nice presents they make, and always acceptable, from 25c up to $2.50, and 75c and $1.00 albums are an exceedingly great bargain. Then we have tin toys, iron toys, masha toys, such as lions, birds, dogs, cats, tigers, elephants, chickens, Noah's arks, block houses, games, picture books dulcimers, violins, toy guns, toy pistols and Christmas trees, candles and Christmas tree ornaments of every variety and some very beautiful ones from 1c up to 25c each. The Christmas tree candles in one pound boxes, 15c box.

FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS CAKES.

Leghorn citron, 20c. lb. Lemon and orange peel, 18c. lb. Shelled almonds 35c. lb. Zantee currants, 8c. lb. Velencia raisins, 9c. lb. Layer raisins 15c. lb. Seedless raisins, 20c. lb. California raisins, muscatells, 15c. lb.

CANDIES AND NUTS FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS.

The low price of sugar has caused a decline of 2c. lb on candy. Best Pure Stick Candy, 10c lb. French Mixed Candy, 10c. Fancy Bon Bons, 15c lb. Imperials, 15c. Chocolate 15c. Toy candies for Christmas decorations and children's presents, 20c. lb. Fancy animals and birds in candy toys in every variety from 1c. each up to 15c. each. Nuts, Brazil, English Walnuts, Soft Shelled Almonds, Filberts and Pecans, 12½c to 20c quart.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS, CANNED AND DRIED.

Our home market on fruits is so large this season that California fruits are in great demand. Besides, they are most desirable goods. Our California goods we purchased before the advance, hence our customers will have the advantage.

California 3 lb. can Peaches, 30c can; California 3 lb. can Pears, 30c can; California Green Gages, 3 lb. cans, 20c can; California Egg Plums, 3 lb. can, 20c can; California 3 lb. cans, Apricots, 20c. can; Dried California Nectarines, Peeled Peaches, Silver Prunes, California Dried Apricots, 17 to 30c. lb.

Maple Syrup, Golden Drips and New Orleans Molasses.

Extra Golden Drip, 40c gallon; New Orleans, 30c; best, 50c. Choice Maple Syrup, 80c gallon.

FISH—SALT WATER AND LAKE FISH.

White Fish, Trout, Mackerel and Labrador Herring; also, Codfish and Smoked Halibut. Family White Fish kits, 55c; No. 1 White Fish kits, 90c; Mackerel in kits, best, $1.40. Herring, 1c each; Holland Herring, kegs $1.00; Scotch Herring, kegs $1.20.

CIGARS, PLUG AND SMOKING TOBACCO.

PLUG TOBACCO—Horse Shoe, 45; J. T. or Big Chunk, 38s; FINE CUT—30c; good, 50c; best, 75c. SMOKING—17c; choice, 20c; Durham Smoking, 45c. BOX CIGARS from 50c per box to 80c, $1.25 and $1.50 per box.

Wines and Liquors for Medical Purposes.

Sweet Catawba, $1.00 gallon; Port, $1.25; Blackberry, $1.25; Angelica and Muscatel, $1.25; Kuemmel, $1.50; Bourbon Liquor, $1.00; 2-year, $1.25; 3-year, $1.40; Monongahela, $1.75; Old '76, $2.50. Wines and Liquors in Bottles, 30c., 40c. and 50c. Pure Alcohol, full proof, $2.50 per gal.

Since moving to our new store our trade has increased beyond our expectations. This is accounted for by the fact that we have more room to display our goods and attend to the wants of our customers.

Fort Wayne theater-goers are already familiar with the clever farce musical comedy, Cawthorn's "Little Nugget," it having been given here to a large and most appreciative audience, and needs no introduction. The comedy in itself is very bright, and is interspersed with sparkling and catchy music. Since its former production here, the company has been greatly strengthened, new music, specialties and situations have been added, and the performance can be relied upon as being first-class. "Little Nugget" (new) will be at the Temple tomorrow evening.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merz, of 25 Pine street, were pleasantly surprised, the occasion being the seventieth anniversary of Mrs. Merz' birth. A very pleasant time was had. THE RIVALS

Magnificent Rendition of the Play by the Jefferson-Florence Party.

The Temple was crowded last evening by one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season to listen to the rendition of "The Rivals" given by the eminent actors Joseph Jefferson and W. J. Florence and their excellent company.

Jefferson and Florence were at their best and charmed their audience. As "Bob Acres" Jefferson won applause and performed the character to perfection, while Florence's "Sir Lucius O'Trigger," was equally pleasing. At every point of his impersonation he carried the audience with him and "held them" in the fullest sense. In the final passage of the dueling scene, Mr. Florence and Mr. Jefferson literally threw the well bred and cultured audience into an uproar. The whole cast of the play was excellent. Every actor being a star.

Among the New Year's guests at the Randall were the following: S. H. Jackman, Toledo; M. O. Clark and wife, Peru; J. K. Kellman, St. Louis and Ben S. Rauch, John E. Housh, W. J. Vesey, D. C. Stout, W. M. Leedy, O. W. Tresselt and Paul Kuhne, city.

After he has reached and passed somewhat beyond the meridian of life, and just before he takes the first step that leads him toward the close, there comes a time when man sits down to review the past, and the part he has played in it. He seems to be seated among heaps of ruins over which scathing fires have swept. Around him, mouldering into ashes, are his early hopes, which burned brightly and steadily for years, but because no fuel was laid to the flames, the embers are beginning to pale. Before him lies a mass of bitter disappointments, plans badly conceived, and poorly and partially executed; works rashly attempted and miserably performed; promises thoughtlessly made, and only half fulfilled. He is simply appalled as he contemplates the mistakes he has made, and beholds the desolation he has caused through energy misapplied. He realizes that only a fool would have lived so ignobly, and accomplished so discreditably the tasks assigned him. He continues his reflections in a train of deep, calm thought, and in reviewing each experience of his life, he learns many lessons which, had he known in his youth, would have enabled him to have lived as a sage; to have wrought like a genius. But now it is too late to profit by these lessons, and the knowledge he has gained, and though educated by experience, wise in thought, and powerful in heart, he only asks that he may end his life in peace, a resigned and sad old man.

The position of the north pole in the heavens is to be determined by means of photography. The exposed plate, with its telescopic adjuncts for gathering and concentrating the light, is to be stationary, and the images of the stars in that region will form circular trails on the picture, the centers of which will be the position of the point sought. It is well known that this point, which is the prolongation of the earth's axis to the celestial vault, is subject to continuous minute changes of position, and that the determination of its exact place among the stars for any particular time is one of the most difficult tasks undertaken by the working astronomer. Perhaps the application of photography to the work may enable the mathematician to compute with far greater exactness than now the extent of the nutrition (nodding) of the earth's axis in obedience to the attractive force exerted by the sun and moon, and lead to a correct value of the weight of the latter as compared with the whole earth. Prof. Harkness of Washington has just arrived at a value of the moon's mass (weight) which differs considerably from that given in the text books. He makes the ratio of moon to earth to be as one to 68.65, while the most recent previous value is one to 81¼, and the figures of Harkness are noteworthy as a return toward those used by Laplace and other astronomers in the early part of this century.

Recent ocean surveys reveal the fact that the Atlantic, if drained, would be a vast plain with a mountain range in middle running parallel with our coast. Another range crosses it from Newfoundland to Ireland, on the top of which lies the submarine cable. The ocean is thus divided into three basins, no longer "unfathomable depths." The tops of these sea mountains are two miles below a sailing ship, and the basins, according to Reclus, almost five miles. These mountains are whitened for miles by a tiny, creamy species of shell, laying as thickly on their sides as frost crystals on a snow bank. The deepest parts are in red color, heaped with volcanic masses. Through the black, motionless waters of these abysses move gigantic, abnormal creatures never seen in upper currents. There is an old legend coming down to us from the first ages of the world on which these scientific sea soundings cast a curious light. Plato and Solon record the tradition, ancient in their days, of a country in the western seas where flourished the first civilization of mankind, which by volcanic eruption was submerged and lost. Dr. Bourboug and other eminent archæologists assert that this lost continent extended from the coast of Africa to near the West Indies. The shape of a plateau discovered in surveying the ocean's floor corresponded with this theory greatly.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

An Epoch in the History of Two Flourishing Lodges.

Last evening there was a meeting of Harmony lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F., for the purpose of installing officers. The work was done by William Killen, the district deputy. The officers installed were as follows: Noble grand, L. E. Bittinger; vice grand, J. H. Payne; treasurer, William Myers; permanent secretary, H. H. Barcus; recording secretary, R. W. Scarlet; assistant recorder, F. J. Greer. After the ceremonies the the officers and the trustees repaired to the parlors of H. H. Barcus, where they partook of an oyster supper.

Last evening the officers of Summit City lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., were installed, P. M. W. George R. Hench being the officiating officer of the occasion. After the installation a social hour was spent in a pleasant way.

HON. CHAS. A. MUNSON

Arrives Home From Chicago Improved in His Condition.

Mr. Dick Meyer and Dr. W. H. Myers have arrived home from Chicago, accompanied by Hon. Charles A. Munson, who was taken suddenly ill with obstruction of the bowels, last Wednesday.

Mr. Munson, when seen by a Sentinel reporter this afternoon, was sitting up but quite weak. He is slowly recovering and declares he will be all right in a few days.

Anti-Foraker Republicans.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Anti-Foraker republicans are furiously declaring that the scheme to shelve McKinley is fathered by Foraker, who wants to play Sherman against McKinley in the Kilkenny cat style, so as to clear the way for himself to the United States senatorship or perhaps to a higher place. The State Journal (republican organ) charges that there is a Sherman bureau here, and makes random thrusts among republicans suspected of treachery, as it calls it, to McKinley and protection.

"She is very set in her ways," remarked the man about his obdurate hen.

I. WILSON MOSELEY, Druggist.

"Once upon a midnight dreary," when I tossed so sad and weary, upon my bed half mad with pain, a friend brought me a bottle of Salvation Oil. It cured me. I needed this, and "nothing more."

Stockholders Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hamilton National bank of Fort Wayne, will be held at the office of said bank on Tuesday, January 13, 1891, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p m. for the purpose of electing five (5) directors.

JOHN MOHR, JR., Cashier.

Notice.

All union journeymen plasterers of order No. 70, are hereby notified to meet at Carpenter's hall, Friday evening, January 2, for the purpose of transacting special business.

By order of the union.

HENRY OTTEN, President.
FRANK CRAWFORD, Secretary.

YOUNG MAN,

If you have brains, energy and good health, select an occupation demanding the highest exercise of all your faculties. There never was such a demand as at the present time for young men as expert bookkeepers, stenographers, and private secretaries. For the young man ambitious to excel, here is a field out of which he can make whatever he chooses. If you have neglected your common school studies, do not expect to reach distinction in the occupations named above, or, for that matter, in any other. There is no calling so humble but intelligence makes better workmen out of those pursuing the calling. Outside of the professions, no occupations are so exclusively founded on intelligence and energy as business and shorthand, and none offer such great rewards. The expert can always command his own price, not only in the professions, but in the trades. The world is always willing to pay well for brains and that is the only thing it will pay well for. In fitting yourself for the callings named, study under those who are masters of the arts they teach. Avoid those quacks who pretend that short hand or bookkeeping can be learned in a few easy lessons, or even in a few months. Everything valuable requires time and every art is in fact a life study. Do not waste your time and opportunities on experiments under incompetent teachers, but go to those whose reputation and standing in their professions give assurance that you will be thoroughly instructed in the most scientific methods and in the least practicable time. 31-2 3

REPORTED MASSACRE.

Five Troops of Cavalry Butchered by Indians--Vivid Description of a Battle.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 2.—Eight companies of troops—480 men—left this morning for the front, via the Union Pacific, Cheyenne and Northern, and Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroads to Rushville. They took four Gatling cannon and left in the best of spirits. Eighteen cars were required to accommodate the troops.

Much excitement prevailed here over the reported massacre of five troops of the Ninth cavalry by the Indians, and the suicide of Maj. G. V. Henry, their commander, rather than be captured.

AS TOLD BY AN EYE WITNESS.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 2.—A correspondent, who was an eye witness of the fight at Wounded Knee Creek, between Big Foot's band and the Seventh cavalry, sends the following description of the battle:

Scarcely had company K begun the work of disarming the Indians when some of the ghost dancers began swaying and singing their ghost chant, while the medicine men began to make medicine. A handful of dust was thrown into the air. The Indians leaped to their feet and began pouring their deadly fire into faces of the astounded soldiers not more than twenty feet away. The crash of the first volley had hardly died away, when it was echoed by the return volley of the soldiers, and the slaughter began.

There was no running, no stampede, no flinching. For twenty minutes it was one deafening crash, one blaze of musketry, one boom, boom, boom, of the rapidly firing cannon. It was bullets past the head, between the feet, through the clothing, and through the heads and hearts of many. Then the remnants of the enemy broke and ran, a bunch of about fifteen, mainly women and children, escaping to a ravine close by.

Who can picture the scene, who can paint in words to the hell from which one emerged. It is unparalelled in the history of Indian wars. In a space of not 200 yards square lay thirty dead and forty wounded soldiers and 135 Indians, while fifty women and children lay writhing with the agony of their wounds, over one hundred and sixty-five human beings dead in that small space, and ninety wounded.

Such results of an hour and a half of fighting between such forces is almost beyond belief. Indians from Pine Ridge, who had heard the boom of cannon, dashed in and carried off the small party hid in the ravine, very nearly cutting off and killing Captain Jackson and his party of twenty men, who were trying to dislodge this party. Capt. Geo. D. Wallace was killed at the door of a tepee, being struck by two bullets in the leg, one through the stomach, and one over the right eye, and hit with a hatchet on the top of the head and across the forehead.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 2.—Governor Thayer to-day sent telegraphic instructions to the commander of the state militia at Long Pine to move at once to Cadron, the scene of the threatened Indian outbreak. Orders were also given to the commanders at Fremont, Central City and Teekamah, to be prepared to start at any time.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 2.—All communication with the railroad is cut off except to the officers over the military wires. There has been no mail service since Sunday, and no one, excepting Indians, to carry telegrams to the railroad. General Miles sent out a telegram warning settlers along the railroad.

BELL TELEPHONE PATENT.

What Will Be the Condition at Things When It Expires.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Bell telephone patent expires in 1893, and not a few people think that after that date many telephone companies will spring up throughout the country, and that competition will make the service as cheap as any other upon which no patent is held. This is a very pleasing outlook, but it may not eventuate at the time expected nor for a long time thereafter. The original Bell patent is for the simple principle of telephoning—a patent upon the transmission of sound waves. Starting from that point, many improvements have been made and patented. Inquiry at the patent office developed the fact that nearly every one of them, at least every one of real value, has been bought by the Bell company outright, or has by other means come under its control. The records of the assignment division of the office are sprinkled over with entries showing that this or that patent has been assigned to the Bell company. The best transmitter yet invented, and one regarded by many experts as nearly perfect, is the Blake. The patent upon it does not expire until 1895, and it is under the control of the Bell people. Thus it is through a long list. The Bell company has its hands upon a large number of almost invaluable patents, which do not expire for years after its original one. A prominent patent attorney of this city said that the situation reminded him of the time that the original sewing machine patents expired fourteen or fifteen years ago. It was heralded around that people would be able to buy machines for but little more than cost of the materials of which they were made. The prophecy was not fulfilled, for the sewing machine people had done in regards to improvements upon their patents what the Bell company has done.

FATAL FIGHT

Occurs at Newport, Arkansas, Over a Dispute About Land.

NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 2.—A conflict as to the ownership of a small tract of land led to a fatal shooting Wednesday night at Newark, fourteen miles from here. The parties contesting for possession were W. T. Magness and C. E. Perdue. The former rented the land to L. Cleveland and he removed his family into a house on it. A week ago Purdue also moved his family into the same house. New Years eve Cleveland invited friends to a candy pulling. Magness and a few others were present and their presence angered Perdue and he ordered Cleveland from the house. Hot words followed and shooting commenced. Cleveland received three bullets and died in fifteen minutes. Purdue also received three bullets and died in twenty minutes. Henry Perdue, the dead man's brother, was fatally wounded and Magness received two slight wounds.

CHICAGO Y. M. C. A.

To Expend a Princely Sum for an Immense New Building.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The announcement is made that the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago has to erect a magnificent building on the corner of LaSalle and Madison streets, at a cost of $1,400,000. The building will have fourteen stories, three of which will be devoted entirely to the work of the association. The late John Crerar made a bequest of $50,000, as a nucleus of a fund to give Chicago a Y. M. C. A. building which would give the association the necessary accommodations to extend its work. Two other Chicago men have subscribed $25,000 each, and other amounts are being rapidly added. The association needs $400,000 to secure the building fund.

STEAMER BURNS

In the Ohio River, but all on Board are Saved.

MADISON, Ind., Jan 2.—The steamer General Pike, Samuel Bryant master, collided with a coal barge at the Mail line landing at noon yesterday, broke its hull, filled with water, and sank. All on board escaped. Lawrence Taylor was injured by jumping. Papers and valuables were saved. The boat belonged to the Cincinnati and Louisville Mail line company, was built here fourteen years ago and was valued at $15,000; uninsured.

The Indiana Midland.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 2.—The Indiana Midland railroad company has begun work between Carbon and Brazil. The Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and Southwestern has attempted nothing between these points as yet, being occupied with reaching Bridgeton on their way to Balabridge via Mansfield. The Midland folks have taken possession of the old north and south roadbed from Carbon south, while their rival occupies it from Carbon north.

DR. MOORE, of the Midland, says that company is free from debt. "The company," said he, "was once in debt by reason of subsidies to the amount of $120,000 which could not be collected, but money was borrowed and all bills paid. The company now owns seven locomotives, six passenger coaches and a hundred cars besides, and is in fair condition."

Beginning work between Carbon and Brazil, the Midland heads off its rival. The fight is getting warm and much interest attaches to the suit now pending in the Clay circuit court for January 7. The subsidy will likely be voted. The election occurs January 12.

Telegraph Company Gets Through.

TERRE HAUTE, Jan. 2.—The Postal telegraph line from Indianapolis reached the city limits Wednesday, and an office will be immediately located at the Terre Haute house. The difficulty with Joseph Blake over right of way along the National road from the county line was amicably adjusted and the right of way was secured. A force of men is rapidly building the line from St. Louis, and are now at a point only four miles distant from this city. When the town of Martinsville was reached a demand for $1,200 was made on the company for right of way, which the company refused to pay, and the line was run around the town. Within a week Terre Haute will be on another telegraph line from Indianapolis to Terre Haute.

Kansas Legislature.

TOPEKA, KAS., Dec. 2.—The election of Ed. Wheeler, alliance candidate, for senator in the Thirty-second district, makes the legislature stand: Senate—republicans, 38; democrats, 1; alliance, 1. House—Republicans, 28; alliance, 91; democrats, 8. The inauguration of the governor takes place January 12.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—For Indiana: Colder; fair; northwesterly winds.

ON A POLICY.

The Disorganized Central Mutual Insurance Company Sued--Court News.

The Edison Electric Illuminating company enter suit in the superior court against the Central Mutual Fire insurance company, to recover $3,000 on a policy. The plaintiffs do business at 255 and 257 Pearl street, New York, and the defendant company to the suit was an incorporated company which recently went out of business in this city. The plaintiffs' counsel is William P. Breen.

COURT GULLINGS.

Justice Harry F. Franse has turned over to the county treasurer the sum of $252.60, the amount in fines collected by him during the last six months of 1890. The other justices of the peace are requested to report within a specified time.

The courts were almost barren of news to-day.

IDENTIFYING THE DEAD

Killed in the Disaster at Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nine Months Ago.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 2.—By noon yesterday the remains of the last of the eight victims of the disaster of March 3 last had been recovered and brought to the surface. Of flesh there was little, and in several cases bones, too, were partially disintegrated and torn apart, while only a few fragments of their clothing remained. It was by this clothing, however, that after the remains had been cleaned and put together as well as possible, seven of the bodies were identified. Frank Cull's wooden leg was the means of his identification. Hugh Dunoon's wife remembered a white button she had sewed on his coat the day before the disaster. Thomas Williamson had on iron-heeled boots; William McDonald leather leggings with iron buckles; Mike Harkins a pair of common shoes instead of regular miner's boots, and so with the others. All were identified, except one little heap of bones and bits of flesh, which was, therefore, judged to be the remains of Patrick McKellis. The fragments, as fast as identified, were placed in caskets covered with black cloth. They will all be interred in one grave in the Hanover cemetery to-morrow.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

Two of Them Taken Into Custody at Dayton, O.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 2.—John T. Miller, formerly a tobacco packer here, was arrested at Lewisburg, northwest of here, Wednesday night by United States Detective Donnell, for making and selling counterfeit five dollar pieces. An ex-convict named Patterson, who had been selling the money, was arrested for passing the stuff in the country in exchange for turkeys. The convict gave Miller away. Miller had made a quantity of bogus coin, but had only three hundred fives on hand. Over a thousand had not been finished. Galvanic batteries, dies, babbit metal and plaster casts were captured. Both of the men are now in jail.

SAD DEATH

Of a Lady While on a Visit to Friends.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—On December 16 Mrs. Annie M. Otis, of Auburn, N. Y., arrived in this city on a visit to her brother-in-law, F. W. Terpening, of Morgan street. On their way to Mr. Terpening's home the carriage in which they were riding was struck by a cable car on Otis street and Mrs. Otis received internal injuries which resulted in her death last night.

Increases Its Capital.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The Metropolitan Traction company, of Philadelphia, and which controls the Broadway and Seventh avenue surface and other street car lines in this city, has decided to increase its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. The present stockholders will be allowed to subscribe for the new stock. Only $60 per share will be called for and payment is to be made in four installments, the first coming due January 15th. With the $6,000,000 thus secured the company intends to lay the proposed cable on the Broadway surface road and to buy additional property that is needed and also to acquire certain securities of controlled lines that are desired.

Farmer's Alliance.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 2.—At yesterday's session of the farmer's alliance, considerable miscellaneous business was attended to, resolutions adopted and a constitution favorably acted on. A resolution to indorse the Ocala platform was heavily defeated and the subject of sub-treasuries was ignored in the regular resolutions, while the Conger land bill was indorsed.

The Seventeenth Man Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Robert Simcoe, aged thirty-six, an engineer at the public building, fell from a window on the seventh floor while watching New Year's parade and was killed. He is the seventeenth man killed at the building.

John Smith Deceased.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The vestry of the parish of St. Sepulchre church of which repose the remains of Captain John Smith, the famous explorer of Virginia and hero of the Pocahontas adventure, has determined to comply with a recommendation of the church wardens and erect a suitable stone to the memory of Captain Smith.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

On a Tow Boat, Killing Five and Wounding Others.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Jan. 2.—At 8 o'clock this morning the tow boat Annie Roberts, of Pittsburg, exploded a cylinder head, instantly killing five men and terribly wounding many more. The tow boat exploded a cylinder head tearing open the boiler deck of of the boat and hurling the mangled bodies of five men, and about ten or twelve wounded, into the river. The boat was bound for Pittsburg, and was moving slowly up the river, but with a full pressure of steam.

Most of the men killed and injured were sleeping in their bunks at the time of the accident. All were horribly burned, scalded, and some mangled by pieces of iron. The following is a list of the dead: Frank Perry, deck hand; Ben Lawson, fireman; James Swail, J. B. Shaw, and James Green, deck hands. The damage to the vessel is very slight. It is owned by a Pittsburg firm, and most of the crew lived there.

ST. LOUIS FIRE.

The Flames Visit a House of Refuge at That City.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 2.—The night watchman at the house of refuge, two miles south of this city, discovered fire in the engine room at 4 o'clock this morning. He turned in an alarm and awakened Superintendent Shaffer, who gave orders to have the boys, numbering 160, awakened and dressed. For fifteen minutes excitement was intense in the boys' dormitory. The youngsters huddled into their clothing in terror and were marched to the hall on the lower floor. Several times Superintendent Shaffer was on the point of opening the doors and ordering the boys to march out, but when the fire engines arrived, the firemen assured him the boys' department could be saved. The panic in the boys' dormitory was quelled without accident and none of the inmates were hurt, or escaped. The loss will not exceed $5,000, fully insured.

A SNEAK THIEF

Steals a Mail Wagon and Secures $3,-000 in Money Orders.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A daring robbery was committed Wednesday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock by which Uncle Sam is loser to the extent of $3,000. Under cover of the heavy fog which prevailed, a sneak thief climbed on the mail wagon which runs between the stock yards and Blue Island office and the Main office, while it was passing along the streets, and abstracted a pouch containing the daily order remittance from the Blue Island office, amounting to $300 in cash, the stamps sale remittance amounting to $174, and twenty-six registered letters representing as far as can be learned, money and valuables to the extent of $2,800. The secret service department is working on the case.

THE ICE GAVE WAY.

While the Party Was Crossing and Mrs. Carnahan Was Drowned.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 2.—Word is received that Wednesday evening, in crossing the Missouri river ice between Fort Sully and Fort Bennett, the wife of Lieutenant Carnahan was drowned, with the driver and two teams of mules. Lieutenant Carnahan and others had just crossed before her. The ambulance containing Mrs. Carnahan followed, and as it reached the ice in the centre of the river the ice gave way. As Mrs. Carnahan was locked in it was impossible for her to get out, and before assistance could be had to raise the vehicle she was dead. The driver was lost in the fall. Lieutenant and Mrs. Carnahan were married at Fort Bennett last winter.

MINISTER SUICIDES.

Crazed From Overstudy, a Baptist Divine Ends His Life.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 2.—Rev. Pitmallus Reynolds, a prominent Baptist preacher of this section, crazed by excessive study of the scriptures, committed suicide by hanging himself from the rafters of his stable.

The Deadly Electric Wire.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Jan. 2.—John Halon, Bell telephone line man, while at work on a pole in company with two others, unknowingly grasped an electric wire, and was badly burned. The shock rendered him unconscious, and, releasing his hold, he fell, striking his head on the curbing, killing him instantly. Halon was the man, who, only yesterday, two blocks away, removed the unconscious form of William Peterson, who narrowly escaped death in a like manner.

Mangled Beyond Recognition.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 2.—When the locomotive running from Fort Hamilton to Brooklyn reached the city late last night the head and soldiers of an unknown man fell from between the wheels. The man was killed four miles away by the train where the rest of his body was found. The head was mangled beyond recognition.

CHURCH OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Lutheran Congregations Meet and Select Officers to Manage Their Church Affairs.

The congregations of several of the different churches in this city held meetings yesterday and elected officers as follows:

St. John's Reformed Church—Chas. Piepenbrink and Herman Lauman, elders; Louis Meyer and Adolf Grotholtman, directors; Adolf Grotholtman, trustee.

Salem Reformed Church — Henry Bauer, elder; Conrad Kettler, director, and Gottlieb Haller, David Hill, George Fisher, Conrad Kettler, Henry Stoll, trustees.

Emanuel Lutheran Church — Gustave Spiegel, Henry Berlin and Wm. Schoenfeld, elders; Henry Hilbrecht, Christian Baade, directors; Henry Hilbrecht, cashier, and Professor Hormel, secretary. Several weeks ago it was decided to appoint an assistant pastor. The following names have been submitted for consideration: Rev. Metzger, Illinois; Professor Zucker, Fort Wayne; Rev. Lothman, Akron, Ohio; Rev. Borth, Ottawa, Can.; Rev. Portsner, Kansas; Rev. Sieg, Stillwater, Minn. The new pastor will be elected in two weeks.

St. Pauls Lutheran church—Gottlieb Thieme and Fred Miller, elders; Henry Moellering, Paul E. Wolf, Henry Wishman, Henry Schultz and Fred Blake, directors, and William Gallmeier, trustee.

Zions Lutheran church—Wm. Miller, trustee; Wm. Scheaman, Fred Dicke and Henry Keiter, directors.

DIED SINGING.

"God Bless Our Home," "In God We Trust," and the Soul Goes to Its Maker.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Maggie Smith, a woman of questionable character, with a male companion, entered a wine room at the corner of Sixth and Elm streets, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The couple took seats at a table near where a man was playing the piano and singing the song "The Mottoes That Are Framed Upon the Wall." The woman drank some beer, arose and joined in the singing. She had proceeded only as far in the song as "God Bless Our Home, In God We Trust," when she reeled suddenly, fell to the floor and after a severe struggle breathed her last. It is supposed she put poison in her beer.

HUNG TO A TREE.

A Brutal Negro Lynched by Men in Texas.

WACO, TEXAS, Jan. 2.—Early Wednesday afternoon Charles Beale, a negro aged twenty, entered the residence of James Fisher, a farmer of Lang Falls county, and finding Mrs. Fisher alone, terribly abused her and finally injured her skull with a hammer. He then left, taking away a small sum of money. Neighbors called and found Mrs. Fisher to be still alive. A party of young men pursued the negro and at 2 o'clock yesterday morning they had captured him. The victim identified him after which he confessed. Beale was taken to a grove near by where he was hoisted to a bough on which his body was allowed to dangle nearly all day. Mrs. Fisher will die.

HE'S ALL RIGHT.

A Preacher Who Can Neither Read Nor Write in Great Demand.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 1.—Greene county boasts of having a preacher of the gospel who can neither read nor write. His wife reads a chapter in the Bible and announces the text. He then arises and delivers a powerful discourse appealing to those who are not in the church to enter his portals at once. At a recent revival he received sixty-five accessions. He is in receipt of calls and munificent offers from all over the state, but declines to leave the county.

Orange Buyers.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 2.—A Tampa special says: "The Orange Buyers' association, which has been on an excursion to Cuba, arrived here yesterday, homeward bound. It is composed of members of firms and their representatives from the principal cities in the United States engaged in buying Florida oranges for shipment to fruit distributing cities."

Snow and Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan, 2.—Light rain and snow fell during the night in Nevada and Arizona, the snowfall varying in Western Nevada from three to ten inches, and the depth on the ground is reported at from two to four feet. Snow also fell in the Tehachapi mountains and the mountain district of Eastern California.

A North Pole Explorer.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The renowned North Pole explorer, Nordenskjold, has arrived here. He intends to search the libraries here for old charts and graphic notations of Arctic regions. From here he will proceed to Vienna to confer with Juepayer of North Pole fame.

Foreign.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—A dispatch from Lisbon to the Daily News states that negotiations are being conducted between the Portuguese government and a French syndicate for the consolidation of the floating debt of Portugal. If the negotiations are successfully accomplished before the maturing of the existing debt the syndicate will be granted certain privileges.

STILL A PRISONER.

Marvin Kuhns's Game Does Not Work --Remanded to a Cell--Wants to Go to Noble County.

This afternoon Marvin Kuhns was again marched into the presence of Judge Dawson, of the superior court on the strength of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by the prisoner, through his attorney, George W. Loulitt. Prosecutor Robinson urged that the court quash the writ of habeas corpus and remand the prisoner into the hands of the sheriff, upon a warrant issued by the circuit court of Noble county, which charges him with grand larceny. The judge executed the warrant and found it to be regular. He therefore ordered the prisoner to be held a prisoner by the sheriff of Allen county. Kuhns then had a whispered consultation with his counsel, which resulted in the young attorney demanding the surrender of Kuhns to the Noble county authorities within twenty-four hours. Judge Dawson stated that such a question did not come under his jurisdiction; that the Noble county court must govern such action, therefore the judge's order remained in force and Kuhns was marched back to his cell.

The criminal did not appear to be disturbed over the proceedings. He consoled himself by skillfully extracting a big plug of tobacco from his pocket with his manacled hands and biting off a chew.

The prisoner will be kept until the arrival of the Fostoria authorities, who are expected to arrive next Monday to take him into custody.

ALONE WITH THE DEAD.

The Wife of a Murdered Man Found by His Corpse.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 2.—Yesterday Dan McCauley called at the jail and told Sheriff Murphy that he wanted to surrender himself for killing his brother-in-law, William McLees, a miner in the Nickel Plate mines, and living at Buckeye Flats. The sheriff thought it but the mutterings of a crazy man, but looked him up, and in company with George Schultz started for the flats. The scene that greeted them was a pitiful and ghastly one. McLees lay dead upon a bed in his rude home, his eyes wide open and his clothes almost torn off, while there was a terrible gash across the neck. By the dead man's side sat his terror stricken wife moaning and bewailing her hard lot.

Some years ago McLees struck McCauley upon the left hand, crippling it in a manner that made work impossible. Since that time McLees gave the injured man a home. Mrs. McLees' story is as follows: Her husband came to Brazil last night and bought a gallon of whisky. Taking it home, he and is brother-in-law proceeded to get drunk. Then McLees began kicking and abusing McCauley until his wife interfered, when he struck her upon the head. She and her brother then went into the kitchen, when McLees seized a chair and started to follow them. McCauley picked up an ax and as McLees came through the door he struck him on the side of the neck. The keen edge of the blade cut a terrible gash, severing the jugular vein and causing instant death. Both men are about 45 years of age and good citizens when sober. McCauley said he was afraid of his life and that of his sister and was compelled to commit the murder.

BERTHA IS MAD.

She Thought She Was Married, But She Wasn't.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 2.—Charles McGonigle and P. R. McCready are in a decidedly bad box, and they fully realize it.

Last Thursday Miss Bertha Hamilton, a beautiful girl of sixteen years, was married, as she thought, to McGonigle, the ceremony being performed by a justice of the peace. Miss Hamilton lived with McGonigle until yesterday as his wife, when she learned through one of McGonigle's friends that the ceremony was a bogus one, young McCready having personated a justice of the peace.

Miss Hamilton, who was very much in love with McGonigle, was nearly heart broken when she learned the true state of affairs, but in spite of this she lost no time, for she caused warrants to be issued yesterday against both the young men, and had the satisfaction of seeing both of them safely behind the bars of the county jail. She says she will send them both to the penitentiary.

Got His Just Reward.

ANDERSON, S. C., Jan. 2.—Luther Brock, a young white man, with several companions, went to a negro house and demanded admission. Being refused, they fired several shots through the door, then knocked the door down with clubs. As the door fell young Brock entered, when George Smith, a negro, met him with an ax and struck him on the head. Brock died in the afternoon. No arrests.

REV. C. GROSS ILL.

The Well Known Pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran Church Critically Sick With Lagrippe.

Rev. Charles Gross, pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, is dangerously ill with lagrippe at his residence, 241 West Jefferson street. The beloved pastor suffers from a recurrence of the same trouble which afflicted him a year ago, only the present attack is more pronounced and consequently more to be feared. The early stage of the sickness precludes a definite diagnosis of the case, but that Rev. Gross is very ill is beyond any doubt and the physicians and family express the gravest apprehension. The sick patient was delirious much of last night but was a little better this morning.

MRS. KOEHLER'S SPREE.

A Married Woman in Court--Two Very Plain Drunks.

Annie Koehler, the wife of Mike Koehler, the brickmaker and orator, was before the mayor this morning. Annie ushered in the New Year by getting hilariously drunk. She stayed with her "jag" all day yesterday and last night she was trying to paint everything and everybody a very deep carmine on Harrison street, near Main. The woman was taken into custody by Officer Richter, who soon had her riding in the hurry-up wagon. The mayor inflicted punishment to the extent of eleven days. The prisoner was later released on bail.

Officer Richter also arrested Thomas Carey and Patrick Moran for drunkenness. Moran was given eleven days, but Carey was up on a similar charge December 19, therefore the mayor made his fine $24.50, or twenty-five days jail. Carey took the latter.

TERRIBLE SCENES.

At a School Children's Fete in London During a Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Further particulars received to-day from Wortley, near Leeds, show that the terrible scenes witnessed at the school fete there, were not exaggerated, though the cause of disaster was not the falling of a string of Chinese lanterns, as at first supposed. The school fete referred to was a charity bazaar, held under the auspices of the parish of Wortley. The building used for the fete was the church school adjoining the Wortley Episcopal church. Part of the program of the bazaar attractions were a series of tableaux vivants, in which a number of the young girls and boys of the parish took part.

The parents and friends of the children were assembled in the school-room, forming a happy, chatting audience, prepared to admire and applaud everything said or done by their dear ones. Suddenly shrieks of terror issued from the little dressing-room, and the audience sprang in alarm from their seats, the male portion of the assemblage making a rush for the school room stage.

The gentlemen were horror struck to see quite a number of children rush upon the stage with their costumes on fire. In a moment the air was filled with cries of terror from the children and from the ladies in the audience, many of whom then knew their little daughters to be in danger of death. Several ladies fainted, thus adding considerably to the confusion. The gentlemen promptly seized the burning children and threw them upon the stage and smothered the flames.

Finally the suffering children to the number of about twenty, were taken to the Wortley infirmary, while others were attended to at their homes. Up to the present there are four deaths recorded as the result of the disaster, and some of the injured are not expected to recover.

BILL MOORE CAUGHT.

Supposed to Be the Man Who Murdered an Aged Couple.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 2.—Bill Moore, of Pendleton county, known as "Cottonville Bill Moore," was arrested here to-day on suspicion of being one of the murderers of Samuel Lowe and wife, at Green Lick, on the edge of Harrison county, on the night of December 9th.

Lowe and his wife, who were aged respectively 70 and 60 years, were murdered at their fireside by two men with white caps on. Moore and an accomplice were suspected of the crime, and a mob started out to lynch them if found, but nothing was heard of either, until Moore was arrested here yesterday. He was recognized by the description which had been sent over the country.

At first he denied his identity, but afterward acknowledged that he was the man wanted. He was taken to Falmouth for trial. There was a reward of $700 offered for his arrest. Moore is said to have killed several men and been guilty of arson and many other crimes.

IT IS said that Vice-President Morton has the presidential bee in his bonnet.

THIS county has fifty-two convicts in the Northern Indiana prison at Michigan City.

THERE are five Taylors in the next house—one from Tennessee, one from Illinois, and three from Ohio.

LORD SALISBURY is reported to have sent assurance to Ottawa that there is no change in the status of the Behring Sea question, and will not be until the United States consents to arbitration; that in the meantime the British subjects will continue to be protected in lawful pursuits.

"MY greatest happiness at Christmas," says Mr. George W. Childs, "comes from the fact that I am able to give happiness to others, and I thank God that He has placed it in my power to do this." That is the true spirit of "peace on earth, good will toward men." It is a notable fact that there is more of it in the world to-day than ever before.

G. F. SHUTT, formerly publisher of the Elkhart Democrat, subsequently editor of the Fort Wayne Journal, and still later clerk of the federal court of Dakota, is now cashier of the Grand Forks National bank, of Grand Forks, N. D., an apparently flourishing institution. Its loans and discounts foot up $194,766, and its deposits are $220,174.

BUSINESS failures occurring throughout the United States for the entire year of 1890, as reported by R. G. Dunn & Co., are 10,907 in number, being but twenty-five greater than 1889, when the number was 10,882. The liabilities show a very large increase over 1889, being $189,000,000 as against $148,000,000, an increase of $41,000,000. These are the largest liabilities since 1884, when they amounted to $226,000,000.

THE Farmers' alliance of Missouri is taking steps to complete, by co-operative manufacturing, with the $35,000,000 Consolidated American Harvester company of Chicago. A movement is now on foot to establish a binder factory in that state, the necessary capital to be raised by subscription and the plant to be run on a co-operative basis, supplying the great agricultural territory immediately surrounding it. The scheme is being pushed with decided vigor.

W. A. PEELE, chief of the state bureau of statistics, has completed his tables relating to the poor of the state. In the year 1890 there were 3,134 inmates of county poor asylums, of whom 949 were under sixteen years of age. This was a decrease from last year of 170. The cost of the poor to the state is appalling. The expense of poor asylums for the year was $220,313, and the relief given by township trustees amounted to $506,728. The total amount of public charity for the poor, therefore, was $787,141, and for the two years, 1889 and 1890, covered by the report, $1,683,129.

LONG ago General Grant, discussing the Indian question, said that we had taught them to distrust us. He said that after leaving West Point, when he was stationed upon the frontier, he had observed that the American white man cheated the Indian. He added that the English Canadians were wiser, for they kept faith, and he illustrated his remark by saying that if they promised the Indian a certain kind of blanket, the Indian was sure to get it. But the Indian was not sure that our engagements would be honestly kept. When promises have been faithfully kept, there has been little serious trouble, and the actual progress made by Indians toward civilization under the most exasperating circumstances shows how much might have been expected from a more humane and honest course. Bishop Hare's recent statement, and he is one of the best witnesses and counsellors in Indian difficulties, contains two important suggestions: One is that there are certain Indian ring-leaders who ought to be imprisoned and kept from mischief, and the other is that indiscriminate punishment of Indians should not be allowed. The missionary work among them seems to have produced excellent results, and, if it does no more, it shows the good result of good faith.

HENDRICKS county has a man, who, several years ago, fell heir to $75,000 in Chicago property. He was as poor as a church mouse before the relative died and left him the fortune. When he read the dispatch announcing the death of the Chicago moneyed man, the poor man threw up his hat and shouted: "I'll have the finest saloon in the world!" The property was turned into cash and the fun began. The man bought fast horses, fine dogs, elegant watches and chains, drank good liquor, and increased his list of lady friends. He simply soared so high Dan Vitalians had to keep track of him with a telescope. On more than one occasion he lighted his imported cigars with dollar notes, and bought fine suits of clothes for his cronies. In just two years the money melted away. The man now splits wood, hauls gravel or does most anything to get enough to feed his half clad family.

STATISTICS FROM OFFICIALS.

Marital Ties Dissolved During the Year with Comparative Statements.

According to the reports received by Wm. A. Peelle, jr., chief of the bureau of statistics of Indiana, says the Indianapolis Journal, 77 counties reported 1,721 divorces during 1890, showan increase over 1889 of 309, as during the latter year 80 counties reported 1,412 divorces. Estimating upon this basis, the entire 92 counties of the state would give a total of 1,623 in 1889 and 2,056 in 1890. Of the number reported in 1889 there were 1,019 granted to wives and 393 to husbands. The causes were: Abandonment, 454; cruelty, 325; failure to provide, 230; drunkenness, 151; adultery, 113, and other causes 121. Of the number reported in 1890 there were 1,236 granted to wives and 485 to husbands. The causes were: Abandonment, 544; cruelty, 358; failure to provide, 189; adultery, 185; drunkenness, 142; other causes, 308. In 1887 the divorces reported by fifty-nine counties were 1,034, the total estimate for the state being 1,612. In 1888 the number reported by fifty-six counties was 1,065, and the total estimate 1,749, making the total reported during the last four years 5,232, and the total estimated for the entire state 7,030.

Congress, in 1887, made an appropriation for the purpose of investigating the subject of divorce and for the collection of statistics in all the states of the union. The report for twenty years—from 1867 to 1886, inclusive—showed that Indiana is credited with 25,193 divorces. If to this number is added the number of divorces granted during the past four years, the grand total of divorces in this state for twenty-four years past will be 32,232. Comparing the number of marriages in the state during the past five years with divorces, the latter were over 10 per cent., of the marriages. The report recommends legislation preventing criminals, paupers and feeble-minded persons from marrying, and says that from whatever point of observation the subject of divorce is viewed it is fruitful of convictions that laws more severely discriminating in matters of marriage and divorce are required in Indiana.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The total number of deaths from all causes reported to the state board of health for the year 1890 were 14,859. Adding to this number the still births the total will be 15,707. The total number of births for the year is 34,626, of which 17,491 were males and 15,588 females, 672 colored and 848 still births. There were 371 twin births, four triplets, and 667 were illegitimate. The marriages reported for the year ending Sept. 30 were 18,646, or 206 less than in 1889. Of this number 18,258 were between white people and 383 colored; 18,098 grooms and 18,386 brides were Americans, 1,189 grooms and 816 brides foreign born. The nationalities of grooms and brides were not reported. There were 328 grooms and 4,674 brides under twenty years of age, 70 grooms and 4 brides between seventy and eighty, while 6 grooms and 1 bride were over eighty.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

Sloped With Her Coachman Whom She Weds, and Released by Death, Will Return to Husband No. 1.

Real life is furnishing every day stories as romantic and interesting as those found in fiction.

The veil of secrecy is drawn around many, but over and anon reportorial noses scent them afar and lay bare the facts which the actors seek to have hidden.

Such a story came to a SENTINEL reporter's attention last evening and although he will not now reveal the name of the lady actor in it, who resides in this city, he can give the facts.

Thirty years ago a bright, winsome girl, living in Paris, the gay capitol of France, won the love of a wealthy young man of that city. After a brief courtship they were married. He gave her a home of elegance and refinement and surrounded her with all the luxuries that wealth could procure.

Happy was the life they lived, for love for each other dwelt in the hearts of both, and when the first blue-eyed little infant came, home was a paradise and the love of husband and wife for each other was increased. Several years of joyous domestic life followed, when one day the husband took a new coachman into his employ, and this circumstance turned the happy tenor of their life and led to the escapades which furnish the materials for this true story.

The coachman was young, handsome and fascinating. He had seen much of the gay life of Paris, and when, after a few weeks of service in his new position, he had fallen desperately in love with his employer's wife, he did not hesitate to do all he could to win her love in return. He found plenty of opportunities and used them to advantage. Admiration for her young coachman soon changed to a deeper feeling, and ere long the young wife confessed to herself that she was in love with him.

The life of the two guilty lovers during this time THE SENTINEL reporter can not paint, nor can he tell of the husband's jealousy, his pleadings and finally his righteous indignation when the real life of his young wife became known to him. But he was too late! An elopement had already been planned and the day after he upbraided her for her perfidy, his wife, with the coachman, had left Paris and were soon on the ocean sailing for America. They landed at New York, where they married. Finally the guilty couple drifted to Fort Wayne. Here the coachman found employment and the two settled down in a rented house in Frenchtown. One, two, three, ten years passed, when sickness came and finally death, and their guilty love life was at an end. Her second husband died and she was left alone in the world.

But how fared husband No. 1. A short time after the elopement of his wife he procured a divorce and in a year or two was remarried. Death soon came and removed his second wife. If he ever thought of his first love his friends did not know it—nor did they find out that that spark of love had not died in his breast until a few months ago he heard through some mutual friend the story of her life and her husband's death here in America. It may have been pity — pity combined with strong love — that made him forget her perfidy and forgive her crime. Be that as it may, he wrote her a letter. An answer was sent and soon another letter came to the woman here in Fort Wayne, breathing the old love and saying "come back, I will forgive you." It enclosed money, enabling her to comply with his request. "Will you go?" said THE SENTINEL reporter who talked to the woman last evening.

"Yes. I know I did wrong," and there were tears in her eyes as she said it, "but he forgives me. I know he means it, and I shall return."

"Will you be remarried?"

"Certainly. He is a dear, kind loving man and we shall live happy. Yes, he is in good circumstances—wealthy. Oh, I am so glad that the dark cloud of my life has gone away and that I can see brighter skies. I shall leave this city for France in a few days—just as soon as I can get ready. I have a good many arrangements to make, but I guess I will be able to leave soon."

The little woman still retains much of the beauty she must have possessed when some thirty years ago she won the heart of the man to whom she will soon return, but in her face can be seen the traces of the sorrow that has come over her life. "I known I made a mistake—a sinful mistake, the world will call it—but I was young and I hardly knew what I was doing. Those days in France seem like a dream, but, sir, I have repented. My first husband has forgiven me and I know God will. My life has been a strange mixture of joys and sorrows. I shall try when I get home to atone for the past. I shall be glad, very glad, to meet my husband and children again. The latter have now grown to be young ladies and gentlemen. It will seem so strange, and yet I will be happy."

DESTITUTION IN ENGLAND.

The Severe Weather is Bad for the Poor of Great Britian.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The severe weather is attended in London by an unusual amount of destitution, the number of persons seeking refuge nightly in the Oonis wards being greater than for several winters past. Coal is reaching such prices in Glasgow that the poorer quarters of the city are suffering for want of it. The dealers who have considerable stocks are in some instances holding back for higher prices, and appalling cases of destitution and suffering are reported and the authorities find themselves overwhelmed with applications for relief, which, owing to the scarcity of fuel on account of the railway strike, they have been unable to adequately deal with. It is hoped that, as the strike seems to be breaking up, the condition of affairs will soon be ameliorated.

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

The Failure of the People's Bank of Fayetteville, N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 2.—The People's National bank, of Fayetteville, closed its doors Wednesday noon. One of the ugly looking facts in connection with this suspension was the fact that the bank received deposits up to the time of the closing of its doors, but it is also a fact that checks were paid up to that time. This bank was organized in 1873, with a paid up capital of $150,000. Several large failures have followed the suspension and business is at a stand still.

State the Expert.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—Frank B. Jeffries was arrested here yesterday for tapping the wires of the Western Union telegraph company which supply the pool room at Arlington, Baltimore county, with reports from the race tracks. A complete office outfit, including a battery of fifty cells and two instruments, and fifty pounds of wire were captured.

Can any other institution in the world show such a stewardship like this?

All good men—sharp, shrewd business men—Men who love their families and not themselves, insure their lives to make provision for their families and their own more advanced age. The Mutual life issues every desirable form of policy. Its new distribution policy is the most liberal ever offered by any Insurance Co. in the world, and is the most profitable. It will pay investors to look into the 4 per cent. Guarantee Bonds, now being issued by this Company.

FRIDAY'S FLASHES.

The Budget of News as it Comes from the Busy Centers of the City.

The Pittsburg wrecking crew of this city spent New Years day at Lima, O.

L. Gerke, of the machine department of the Pittsburg car shop, has recovered from an illness.

August Kaiser has accepted a position in the machine department of the Indiana machine works.

Gust Leichel, of the blacksmith department of the Bass works, is suffering from an injured eye.

The trains on the different roads in this city were running late to-day on account of the snow storm.

John Brown, formerly of the Nickle Plate, who was in the city to spend New Years, left yesterday for his home.

The inventory of all the manufacturing establishments in the city have been taken and a new set of books have been opened.

Adam Fergel has accepted a position at the Bass works. He formerly held a position in the car wheel moulding department.

All the departments of the Wabash shops in this city resumed work this morning, after having been shut down for ten days.

Ed. Castelloe, switchman in the yards of the Wabash road at Toledo, O., who was in the city to spend the holidays, has returned.

The Bowser oil tank and pump works have suspended operations for a few days to make necessary repairs to the machinery. They will resume work Monday.

Only one of the cupaloes in the car wheel department of the Bass works is in operation to-day and several of the moulders are off duty in consequence.

Andy McClure, general foreman of the Wabash shops at Andrews, who was in this city to spend New Years day with his family, has returned to his duties.

All the large manufacturing establishments of the city which were closed down to allow the employes to observe New Years, resumed operation this morning.

Frank A. Mangan, a student in the Pennsylvania Company's office at Dixon, Ohio, who was in this city visiting relatives for a few days, has returned to his home.

Harvey Cronmiller and Jack Hislop have left for Huntington to accept positions in a foundry. They formerly held similar positions in the moulding rooms of the Bass works.

William Perrin, formerly a brakeman on the eastern division of the Fort Wayne road, now holding a position in the Birch plow works, at Crestline, O., was a visitor in this city for a few days.

O. V. Riley, telegraph operator on the Fort Wayne road at Adams, who resides in this city, entertained his brother, Otis, over New Years day. He is a teacher in the public schools at Convoy, Ohio.

The works of Rhinesmith & Simonson, the lumber dealers, have suspended operation for a few days to allow some necessary repairs to be made to the machinery. They will start up again Monday morning.

Louis H. Lueseinhop has been made assistant to Baggage Master Joe Sunderland at the south depot and his duty will be in day service. The young man was formerly employed in the drug store of Theime & Gross. He succeeds Jacob Stroham in his present position.

Fireman Gray, in the yards of the Nickel Plate road at Stony Island, who was badly scalded while on duty, was brought to his home in this city yesterday afternoon. He turned on one of the safety valves in a hurried manner and the escaping steam came in contact with his face. His eyes and forehead were badly burned and it is feared that the eyesight will be destroyed. He is the son of Contractor Gray, of 220 East Wayne street.

Several cars on the Fort Wayne road were thrown from the track early yesterday morning, at Lima, O. A switch engine on the Dayton and Michigan road was backing up, and before it could be stopped ran into a freight train on the st Pittsburg track, and four of the cars were badly wrecked. Trains were also delayed several hours on the Wabash road yesterday morning, on account of a small wreck, which occurred on the junction at Lafayette. None of the train men were injured in either case.

Watchman Patrick Lanigan, who operates the safety gates of the Calhoun street crossing of the Pittsburg road, has recovered from a week's sickness and returned to duty. Mr. Lanigan has always enjoyed good health, this being the first time in his life he was ill enough to send for a doctor. On the first day of next April he will have been in his present position and at the same crossing twenty-four years.

Morgan county shows mortgages filed during 1890, amounting to $97,600, while those released aggregate over $350,000.

The venerable T. B. Johnson, of South Bend, is dead. He was aged seventy-seven, and he settled in South Bend in 1843.

Benjamin Alvis, employed in the mines near Newberg, was caught by falling slate yesterday, breaking his spine and collar bone.

There was a fox-drive near Loogootee, in which many people participated. Nothing but clubs were used, and the spoils included five foxes and nearly 200 rabbits.

During a country dance near Greensburg a fight occurred between Walter Perry and John Pettit, who are brothers-in-laws, and Pettit was shot twice and seriously wounded. Perry fled to escape arrest.

John Savage, of Connersville, while in the act of leaving his home to attend a lecture, was stricken with paralysis, and died within a few hours. He was aged seventy-five, a Mason of long standing, and he twice served as sheriff of Fayette county.

Alexander Coseman, a farmer, near Lima, O., came to Shelbyville, to marry a woman whom he did not know, either by name or in person. Coseman's first wife died some time ago, and she made him promise during her last sickness, that if he ever married again he would choose one of her sisters. He heard one of the sisters was a widow, living in Shelby county, and by giving the names of relatives he was able to locate her as Mrs. Mary Reed. Within an hour after making her acquaintance they were man and wife.

HE FOUGHT WITH CUSTER.

Capt. George D. Wallace's Brief but Eventful Military Career.

Capt. George D. Wallace, killed by the Indians near Pine Ridge agency, was an intimate friend and close comrade of Dr. A. J. Laubach, of this city. The two fought together under the stars and stripes. In the fall of 1867 Captain Wallace was ordered to Jefferson barracks, where he was placed in command of Troop B, which position he retained until the autumn of 1869.

Captain Wallace was a native of South Carolina, and in 1868 received an appointment to the United States military academy. Upon graduating, in 1872, he was assigned to the Seventh cavalry with the rank of second lieutenant. He served with his regiment through several Indian campaigns and was in Custer's fatal campaign in 1876, being attached to Reno's command. The casualties in his regiment gave him his promotion to the rank of first lieutenant, and in September, 1880, he received his commission of captain, being next to the youngest of his rank in his regiment.

DE LESSEPS' stock is so far below par that it is almost out of sight. His Panama failure is followed by the announcement that the proposed scheme of cutting a canal through the Isthmus of Gabes and turning the Sahara Desert into a sea has been abandoned because rock was found where the diggers expected to find sand. M. De Lesseps had looked the plan over and pronounced it feasible. Recently one of the dredges purchased by the Nicaragua Canal Company from the Panama Canal Company sunk in the Gulf while on the way to its new owners. Its name was the Ferdinand De Lesseps. The ambitious Frenchman is getting down near the under side of things, it would seem.

THERE is a project to construct a ship canal across New Jersey from the Delaware River to the Atlantic. The scheme was first suggested by merchants of Philadelphia, who desire a shorter water route to New York and an abbreviation of the journey of hundreds of miles down the bay and around Cape May to strike the ocean paths to Europe.

We are a patient people—the ox is nowhere in comparison.

We buy lamp-chimneys by the dozen; they go on snapping and popping and flying in pieces; and we go on buying the very same chimneys year after year.

Our dealer is willing to sell us a chimney a week for every lamp we burn—a hundred or more a year—and we plow for him, pay him for goading us.

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" do not break from heat; they are made of tough glass.

As likely as not our dealer would rather his chimneys would break; "it's good for the business," says he. He buys the brittlest ones he can get.

FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES.

In many instances there has been little change in prices, especially in staple goods. The sugar market has been steady, the clique who has had hold of it being afraid to advance prices. In consequence of the tariff agitation this was not so last year when in one instance inside of 30 days they sank prices up over 3c. per pound.

Coffee A. Standard, 6½c. Coffee C. Extra Yellow, 6c.
Granulated, Crushed and Powdered, 7c.

The Tea market in second grades has been much higher; these qualities have advanced over 3c. In the first-qualities there has been no change; fortunately we had a large supply before the advance which enables us to continue to sell to our customers at old prices. Our motto in dealing in Teas, like other goods, is to buy in large quantities and we sell direct to the consumer, thereby saving to our customers the profits of the jobber and speculator, which is not less than 10 and 20c. on the pound. This is the secret to the success of our Tea trade—trade large sales and small profits.

Young Hyson Tea, good, 20c.; choice, 30c.; best, 50c. lb.
Imperial Tea, extra, 30c; best, 50c lb.
Gunpowder Tea, extra, 30c. lb; best, 50c lb.
Oolong or Black Tea, extra, 25c.; best, 50c. lb.
Japan Tea Uncolored, choice, 30c; best, 50c lb.

COFFEE, COFFEE—Rio, Mocha, Java and Roasted Coffee.

There are indications of a great decline in coffee the next two months as receipts in Rio and Santos are very large, and this being shipped to New York will compel the clique who has had hold of the market to let go, and in consequence the market will go down: Prices remain as last quoted:

Best Rio Coffee, 25c. lb. Choice Old Govt. Java, 28c. lb.
Best Green Mocha, 30c. lb. Best Roasted Rio, 25c. lb.
Best Roasted Java, 33c. lb. Best Roasted Mocha, 35c. lb.
Sampson Brand in Packages, 26c. Jersey Coffee in Packages, 26c.
Durham Coffee in Packages, 25c. Levering's Coffee, 26c. lb.
Cordova Coffee 11b. pack 25c.

The Christmas trade in toys and presents promises to be large this season, and in consequence of such a demand we have laid in an immense supply of all kinds of toys and fancy goods suitable for presents for old and young. They are too numerous to mention them in detail, but we have dolls of all kinds and sizes from the 5c doll up to the $1.00 dressed doll. Fancy paper albums, very nice presents they make, and always acceptable, from 15c up to $2.50, and 75c and $1.00 albums are an exceedingly great bargain. Then we have the toys, from toys, nasaka toys, such as lions, birds, dogs, cats, tigers, elephants, chickens. Noah's arks, block houses, games, picture books, dulcimers, violins, toy guns, toy pistols and Christmas trees, candies and Christmas tree ornaments of every variety, and some very beautiful ones from 10c up to 25c each. The Christmas tree candles in a one pound boxes, 15c box.

FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS CAKES.

Lozhorn citron, 20c. lb. Lemon and orange peel, 15c. lb. Shelled almonds 25c. lb. Zanlon currants, 6c. lb. Velencia raisins, 9c. lb. Layer raisins 10c. lb. Seedless raisins, 20c. lb. California raisins, muscatells, 10c. lb.

CANDIES AND NUTS FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS.

The low price of sugar has caused a decline of 2c. lb on candy. Best Pure Stick Candy, 10c lb. French Mixed Candy, 10c. Fancy Bon Bons, 15c lb. Imperials, 15c. Chocolate 15c. Toy candies for Christmas decorations and children's presents, 20c. lb. Fancy animals and birds in candy toys in every variety from 1c. each up to 15c. each. Nuts, Brazil, English Walnuts, Soft Shelled Almonds, Filberts and Pecans, 12½c to 20c quart.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS, CANNED AND DRIED.

Our home market on fruits is so large this season that California fruits are in great demand. Besides, they are most desirable goods. Our California goods we purchased before the advance, hence our customers will have the advantage.

California 3 lb. can Peaches, 30c can; California 3 lb. can Pears, 30c can; California Green Gages, 3 lb. cans, 20c can; California Egg Plums, 3 lb. can, 20c can; California 3 lb. cans, Apricots, 20c. can; Dried California Nectarines, Peeled Peaches, Silver Prunes, California Dried Apricots, 17 to 30c. lb.

Fort Wayne theater-goers are already familiar with the clever farce musical comedy, Cawthorn's "Little Nugget," it having been given here to a large and most appreciative audience, and needs no introduction. The comedy in itself is very bright, and is interspersed with sparkling and catchy music. Since its former production here, the company has been greatly strengthened, new music, specialities and situations have been added, and the performance can be relied upon as being first-class. "Little Nugget" (new) will be at the Temple tomorrow evening.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merz, of 26 Pine street, were pleasantly surprised, the occasion being the seventieth anniversary of Mrs. Merz' birth. A very pleasant time was had. Those present were a brother of Mr. Merz, six children and twenty grandchildren, who were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Heit, Mr. and and Mrs. Pete Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ankenbruch, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Merz, Miss Annie Heit, Mr. Ben Kesman and Messrs. Charles and George Heit. An elegant supper was served, and the party was kept up until a late hour.

THE RIVALS.

Magnificent Rendition of the Play by the Jefferson-Florence Party.

The Temple was crowded last evening by one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season to listen to the rendition of "The Rivals" given by the eminent actors Joseph Jefferson and W. J. Florence and their excellent company.

Jefferson and Florence were at their best and charmed their audience. As "Rob Acres" Jefferson won applause and performed the character to perfection, while Florence's "Sir Lucius O'Trigger," was equally pleasing. At every point of his impersonation he carried the audience with him and "held them" in the fullest sense. In the final passage of the dueling scene, Mr. Florence and Mr. Jefferson literally threw the well bred and cultured audience into an uproar. The whole cast of the play was excellent. Every actor being a star.

Among the New Year's guests at the Randall were the following: S. H. Jackman, Toledo; M. C. Clark and wife, Peru; J. K. Kellman, St. Louis and Ben S. Baach, John E. Housh, W. J. Vesey, D. C. Stout, W. M. Leedy, C. W. Tressell and Paul Kuhne, city.

After he has reached and passed somewhat beyond the meridian of life, and just before he takes the first step that leads him toward the close, there comes a time when man sits down to review the past, and the part he has played in it. He seems to be seated among heaps of ruins over which scathing fires have swept. Around him, mouldering into ashes, are his early hopes, which burned brightly and steadily for years, but because no fuel was laid to the flames, the embers are beginning to pale. Before him lies a mass of bitter disappointments, plans badly conceived, and poorly and partially executed; works rashly attempted and miserably performed; promises thoughtlessly made, and only half fulfilled. He is simply appalled as he contemplates the mistakes he has made, and beholds the desolation he has caused through energy misapplied. He realizes that only a fool would have lived so ignobly, and accomplished so discreditably the tasks assigned him. He continues his reflections in a train of deep, calm thought, and in reviewing each experience of his life, he learns many lessons which, had he known in his youth, would have enabled him to have lived as a sage; to have wrought like a genius. But now it is too late to profit by these lessons, and the knowledge he has gained, and though educated by experience, wise in thought, and powerful in heart, he only asks that he may end his life in peace, a resigned and sad old man.

The position of the north pole in the heavens is to be determined by means of photography. The exposed plate, with its telescopic adjuncts for gathering and concentrating the light, is to be stationary, and the images of the stars in that region will form circular trails on the picture, the centers of which will be the position of the point sought. It is well known that this point, which is the prolongation of the earth's axis to the celestial vault, is subject to continuous minute changes of position, and that the determination of its exact place among the stars for any particular time is one of the most difficult tasks undertaken by the working astronomer. Perhaps the application of photography to the work may enable the mathematician to compute with far greater exactness than now the extent of the nutrition (nodding) of the earth's axis in obedience to the attractive force exerted by the sun and moon, and lead to a correct value of the weight of the latter as compared with the whole earth. Prof. Harkness of Washington has just arrived at a value of the moon's mass (weight) which differs considerably from that given in the text books. He makes the ratio of moon to earth to be as one to 68.65, while the most recent previous value is one to 81½, and the figures of Harkness are noteworthy as a return toward those used by Laplace and other astronomers in the early part of this century.

Recent ocean surveys reveal the fact that the Atlantic, if drained, would be a vast plain with a mountain range in middle running parallel with our coast. Another range crosses it from Newfoundland to Ireland, on the top of which lies the submarine cable. The ocean is thus divided into three basins, no longer "unfathomable depths." The tops of these sea mountains are two miles below a sailing ship, and the basins, according to Reclus, almost five miles. These mountains are whitened for miles by a tiny, creamy species of shell, laying as thickly on their sides as frost crystals on a snow bank. The deepest parts are in red color, heaped with volcanic masses. Through the black, motionless waters of these abysses move gigantic, abnormal creatures never seen in upper currents. There is an old legend coming down to us from the first ages of the world on which these scientific sea soundings cast a curious light. Plato and Solon record the tradition, ancient in their days, of a country in the western seas where flourished the first civilization of mankind, which by volcanic eruption was submerged and lost. Dr. Bourboug and other eminent archaeologists assert that this lost continent extended from the coast of Africa to near the West Indies. The shape of a plateau discovered in surveying the ocean's floor corresponded with this theory exactly.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

An Epoch in the History of Two Flourishing Lodges.

Last evening there was a meeting of Harmony lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F., for the purpose of installing officers. The work was done by William Killen, the district deputy. The officers installed were as follows: Noble grand, L. E. Bittinger; vice grand, J. H. Payne; treasurer, William Myers; permanent secretary, H. H. Barcus; recording secretary, R. W. Scarlet; assistant recorder, F. J. Greer. After the ceremonies the the officers and the trustees repaired to the parlors of H. H. Barcus, where they partook of an oyster supper.

Last evening the officers of Summit City lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., were installed, P. M. W. George R. Hench being the officiating officer of the occasion. After the installation a social hour was spent in a pleasant way.

HON. CHAS. A. MUNSON

Arrives Home From Chicago Improved in His Condition.

Mr. Dick Meyer and Dr. W. H. Myers have arrived home from Chicago, accompanied by Hon. Charles A. Munson, who was taken suddenly ill with obstruction of the bowels, last Wednesday.

Mr. Munson, when seen by a SENTINEL reporter this afternoon, was sitting up but quite weak. He is slowly recovering and declares he will be all right in a few days.

Anti-Foraker Republicans.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Anti-Foraker republicans are furiously declaring that the scheme to shelve McKinley is fathered by Foraker, who wants to play Sherman against McKinley in the Kilkenny cat style, so as to clear the way for himself to the United States senatorship or perhaps to a higher place. The State Journal (republican organ) charges that there is a Sherman bureau here, and makes random thrusts among republicans suspected of treachery, as it calls it, to McKinley and protection.

"She is very set in her ways," remarked the man about his obdurate hen.

From Richmond, Va.—I sell a great deal of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and find that it gives better satisfaction than any other Cough Syrup.

I. WILSON MOSELEY, Druggist.

"Once upon a midnight dreary," when I tossed so sad and weary, upon my bed half mad with pain, a friend brought me a bottle of Salvation Oil. It cured me. I needed this, and "nothing more."

Stockholders Meeting.

By order of the union.

HENRY OTTEN, President.
FRANK CRAWFORD, Secretary.

YOUNG MAN,

If you have brains, energy and good health, select an occupation demanding the highest exercise of all your faculties. There never was such a demand as at the present time for young men as expert bookkeepers, stenographers, and private secretaries. For the young man ambitious to excel, here is a field out of which he can make whatever he chooses. If you have neglected your common school studies, do not expect to reach distinction in the occupations named above, or, for that matter, in any other. There is no calling so humble but intelligence makes better workmen out of those pursuing the calling. Outside of the professions, no occupations are so exclusively founded on intelligence and energy as business and shorthand, and none offer such great rewards. The expert can always command his own price, not only in the professions, but in the trades. The world is always willing to pay well for brains and that is the only thing it will pay well for. In fitting yourself for the callings named, study under those who are masters of the arts they teach. Avoid those quacks who pretend that short hand or bookkeeping can be learned in a few easy lessons, or even in a few months. Everything valuable requires time and every art is in fact a life study. Do not waste your time and opportunities on experiments under incompetent teachers, but go to those whose reputation and standing in their professions give assurance that you will be thoroughly instructed in the most scientific methods and in the least practicable time. 31-2 3
